Supervisors Again "Delay" Action On Gas Tax

PROPOSERS OVER BOARD "STALLING"

Claim District Attorney Will Be Unable to Give Opinion in One Week

HEARING ON FRIDAY

Farm Bureau Letter Says
Wages Too High, Road Fund Could Be Cut

REGARDED BY MANY who are vitaly interested in the plan proposed by the Orange County Farm Bureau and cities of Orange county for an equitable distribution of the county gas tax money to the cities and a reduction of the county district road tax, to 10 cents as a distinct "stall," the board of supervisors today "delayed" action on the matter until next Friday, the date of the public hearing on the budget.

The matter was presented a week ago and decision of the supervisors at that time was postponed until today.

Because it was said Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton was out of town for the past week, returning but last night from San Diego on a mission for the board, the legal, written opinion on the matter which the board of supervisors desired as a basis for their decision, was reported as not prepared and the decision was not made today as was expected and announced previously.

Leaders of the movement, including representatives of the mayor's committee and Farm bureau, were present at the board meeting this morning to receive the answer to their request, but no answer was forthcoming.

Budget Hearing Friday

The point that was considered peculiar by many was the fact that the supervisors first attempted to postpone the matter until next Tuesday, whereas the budget hearing begins Friday. The budget hearings cannot exceed 10 days and the county budget must be adopted on or before August 20, the day of the primary election.

The attitude of the board might be construed by remarks made by William Schumacher, supervisor from the third district, who has consistently opposed division of the gas tax fund, who said the plan
"didn't hold water."

The remark by Schumacher came following the reading of a letter from Flaherty, representing the Farm bureau and city plan.

The letter explained in detail the advantages of the plan as

Jail Brother Of Slain Bonus Vet

CHICAGO, Aug. 16. — (UP)—
Charles Hushka, 48, whose brother William was slain in the bonus army disorder at Washington, D. C., was under arrest today on a warrant sworn out by the slain veteran's divorced wife. The wife, Mrs. Francis Krivenko, charged Hushka stole her ex-husband's $2000 insurance policy in which she claims, she was named beneficiary. She asserted she needed the money for the support of Lauretta, 12, a daughter by the ex-husband.

LEGION DRUM CORPS SECOND PRIZE WINNER

Santa Ana Group Expected Home Tonight From Convention in Oakland

ON THE HEELS of their victory yesterday when the Santa Ana American Legion Drum Team won first state honors, the Santa Ana Legion Drum corps came through last night to win second place in the state drum corps competition, it was learned here today.

The Monterey Peninsula post won first prize and an award of $800 and the Santa Ana post was second with an award of $300, it was announced.

Victors Go to Portland

The Monterey Peninsula post will represent the state of California at the Portland national convention to be held next month.
San Jose was third, winning an award of $150. South Pasadena, former champions, were fourth;
Riverside, fifth, and Pasadena, sixth.

Chico won the class "B" competition and a $300 prize; Corning won $150 and second money; Salinas, third, $50; Santa Cruz, fourth and Modesto fifth.

Return Tonight

Highland Park, Los Angeles, won the women's auxiliary drill team event, with Long Beach second and Maywood third. Zane Irwin post, San Francisco, was first in the band contest, with the San Francisco county council entrants second.

Members of the Santa Ana post drum corps were expected to return to Santa Ana today, it was said by Rodney Bacon, post commander.

The results of the race between Monterey and Santa Ana for first honors was so close that the decision was held up for some time.
Monterey finally was given the verdict by one tenth of a point over the local corps.

INDIANA SOLONS LIFT TAX BURDEN

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 16.—(UP)— Indiana's emergency session of the legislature adjourned sine die today with the state's property tax burden lightened between $12,000,- 000 and $15,000,000.

The Wright "bone dry" law, although battered by repeated attacks, was unchanged.

It was estimated aggregate salary reductions would be $8,700,000. Indiana's public official payroll is approximately $87,000,000.

Blame Drop In Values For Raise

Levy Will Be Three Cents
Higher Than Last Year;
Same as 1926-27

A CITY ORDINANCE fixing the tax rate at $1.85 per $100 assessed valuation for the year starting July 1, 1932, was given first reading by the city council at its meeting last night, following completion of the city's budget for the year. The rate is the same as for 1926-27 and is three cents
higher than last year.

The new ordinance will be presented for passage on Monday night, August 29, time set for the next meeting of the council.

The tax rate is expected to raise $347,000 to be expended by the city, which with the anticipated city receipts from the various departments is expected to total $571,789, the anticipated amount needed to operate during the year.
The assessed valuation is placed at $19,337,500, this year, exactly $500,000 less than last year. This was the reason an increase in the tax rate was necessary, rather

80 CENT RATE DEMANDED BY L. A. TAXPAYERS

Supervisors' Chambers Are Packed as Hearing Opens on County Budget

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—(UP)—
A huge crowd of tax payers today flocked to the chambers of supervisors to attend a hearing on the county budget for 1932-33 and demand a tax rate of not in excess of 80 cents.

Books were heard when speakers for the tax payers council demanded a 25 per cent cut in all county salaries.

J. W. Buzzell, secretary of the central labor council, spoke against this proposal.

J. Francis Potter, a tax expert, asked the following program be adopted:

1. That the number of county employees be reduced from 11,193 to not more than 9,000.
2. That the salary budget be reduced 30 per cent.
3. That the district attorney's office should eliminate 61 investigators, costing $175,000, and this work be done by the sheriff's office.
4. That the allowance of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce should be cut from $300,000 to $90,- 000 a year.
5. That the allowance of $30,000 a year to the state chamber of commerce be eliminated.
6. That consolidations in county departments, particularly of the surveyor, regional planning, recreation, and health be effected, including consideration of merger of city and county activities.
7. Elimination of $40,000 allowance to the county fair, of $12,500 to annual livestock exposition, and $7500 to Hollywood bowl.

68 TRUCKLOADS OF GOLD TRANSFERRED

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(UP)— Tons of gold were trucked through the streets here today during transfer of $1,000,000,000—the biggest gold movement in the history of Wall Street.

The precious metal was being moved from the old assay office in Wall Street to the new office at South Street and Old Slip, not far from the East river fish markets.

Almost $100,000,000 in silver already has been moved. Gold, platinum and other metals are to be transferred within the next two weeks. Sixty-eight truckloads of gold were moved yesterday—just like so much coal except for armed guards and armored trucks.

CLAIM WALKER WILL RESIGN AS N. Y. MAYOR

Philadelphia Paper Sees Political Significance in Action if Carried Out

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—(UP)— Mayor James J. Walker of New York City will resign within the next five days and before Governor Franklin D.
Roosevelt announces a final decision on the demand that he be removed from office, the Philadelphia Record said it had learned from "reliable sources."

"The resignation will carry with it the most significant political implications. If the mayor were ousted by the governor, the law provides that the president of the board of aldermen automatically succeeds him and continues to serve as mayor until expiration of the term."

Can Seek Re-Election

"But if Mayor Walker resigns, the law provides for a special election to choose a successor to fill out the unexpired term. Walker, if he resigns, therefore, could become a candidate to succeed himself at the general election in November, 1932. If elected, he would be back in power by January 1, 1933."

There have been numerous reports that Mayor Walker would resign to run on a vindication

Woman's Christian Temperance Union will not follow the lead of the allied forces of prohibition in endorsing the Hoover-Curtis ticket, Mrs. Ella Alexander Boole, presiof his stand on the party's prohibi-its stand on prohibition issues."

Her declaration followed a con-

BRIGHT SPOTS IN BUSINESS

WASHINGTON—Farm prices rose 10 per cent in the month ended July 15, the biggest gain for any month in three years, according to the Department of Agriculture.

GREENSBORO, N. C.—Wages were increased 10 to 12 per cent by Southern Silk Mills, Inc., affecting about 225 employees.

DANVILLE, Ill.—Net income of United Electric Coal company for the year ended July 31, was estimated at $310,000, against $150,562 in the preceding year.

HAMMOND, Ind.—A 5000 tons a month increase in finished steel output for August is reported by the Inland Steel company for its Hammond plant.

HAMMOND, Ind.—Approximately 100 men have been recalled by the Universal Atlas Portland Cement company.

CHICAGO—Thirteen hundred men have returned to work for two weeks at the Silvis, Illinois, shops of the Rock Island Railroad lines.

GERMANY WILL ASK REVISION OF ARMS PACT

Ready to Abrogate Restric-

France is Failure

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—(UP)—Ger-closed today, and in the event of failure, is ready to abrogate the

Order Autopsy In Mysterious Death

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 16.— (UP)—An autopsy was ordered today in an attempt to solve the mysterious death of Anna May Bishop, 18, who was found dead in bed by her uncle, Fred Allen, last night.

A short time before the girl was found dead, a friend had visited her and found the girl "cheerful."
No poison or poison container was found near the girl.

Her sister, Isabel Bishop, committed suicide here last year, police said.

COL. LINDBERGH CHUCKLES HAPPILY AS HE CONFIRMS WORD OF BABE'S ARRIVAL

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Aug. 16.—(UP)—Another son was born to the Lindberghs today.

The baby came into the world at 7:30 a. m. at the great white Morrow homestead where Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have been staying since the tragic discovery three months ago that their first son had been murdered by kidnapers.

In this proud house, three years ago, Anne Morrow married Col.
Lindbergh, hero of a world; in this same house, a year later, her first son was born. Here she had come for the funeral of her father, Dwight W. Morrow, in the months between.

Morning sunshine, streaming through the mists that hung low in the woodlands of the palisades, broke over the lonely mansion early today as, in an upper room of an especially prepared wing, the baby was born.

Lindbergh Chuckles
And Col. Lindbergh himself, excited and chuckling happily, answered the telephone to confirm the news, to announce the age-old mystery and victory of birth
—"Yes, mother and baby are doing well."

Once again, throughout the warm morning, drowsy Englewood hummed with the uproar of an international event.

Once again in the automobiles of New York newspaper men roared through the streets, news reels and cameramen gathered before the closed gates of the Morrow home, waiting a chance to snap a visiting celebrity, a nurse, a hurrying doctor.

And once again the world thrilled to news of "Lindy and Anne," perhaps the most famous, best loved and most tragic couple who ever lived.

THREE JUDGES FACE OUSTER MOVE IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—(UP)— Recall petitions against three superior court judges, two of whom allegedly accepted gifts from receivers for the American Mortgage company, were filed with W.
M. Kerr, registrar of voters, today.

The petitions were drawn against John L. Fleming, Walter S. Guerin and Dalley S. Stafford, and contained more than 100,000 signatures each.

Bar Launches Move Proceedings were instituted against the three jurists by the Los Angeles Bar association when they refused to accede to demands that they resign.

Stafford and Guerin were accused of having accepted gifts of clothing from Charles F. Allison and A. J.
Showalter, later discharged as state receivers for the $12,000,000 mortgage firm.

Fleming was charged with permitting deposit of receivership funds in a bank in which he had a financial interest.

Superior Judge Walter S. Gates recently was quickly acquitted of a charge that he accepted a bribe by appointing a publicity writer as his campaign promoter in exchange for receivership posts.

Kerr said he would immediately have the petitions checked to determine if there were sufficient names of qualified electors to warrant a recall election.

There were 197,571 signatures on the petition for Stafford's removal; 104,412 against Guerin and 104,341 against Fleming. Between 58,000 and 79,000 signatures were required.

JAPAN SLASHES RATE ON POSTAL SAVING

TOKIO, Aug. 16.—(UP)—A twelve million dollar slash in postal savings rates was decided upon by the cabinet today when it announced it would reduce the rate on such savings from 4.2 percent to 3 percent.

The reduction was to become effective in October, and 40,000,000 depositors will be affected by the order.

Postal savings deposits in Japan last year were estimated to equal 4,105,000,000 yen. At the present rate of exchange this would be the equivalent of approximately $1,- 013,945,000 and the interest reduction would represent a saving of $12,167,220.

Postal savings have been a popular form of investment for years in Japan.

"Flying Boudoir" In Air Two Days

VALLEY STREAM, L. I., Aug.
16.—(UP)—Mrs. William H. Mar-sais and Mrs. Louise M. Thaden had been in the air two days at 2 p. m. today and the "Flying Boudoir," their femininely-appointed airplane continued to drone over Long Island in the attempt to shatter the 123 hour sustained refueling flight record for women.

They were favored by good flying weather although earlier in the day it appeared they would have to face fog, a warm sun, mist and the daring
however, dispelled the gathering mist and the daring women had little trouble making contact with the refueling ship.

COUNCIL SETS TAX RATE FOR CITY AT $1.85

than a decrease which would have been possible, according to city officials. If the assessed valuation had not dropped.

The rate is made up as follows: General, 61 cents; street, 28 cents; sewer, 4 cents; fire, 30 cents; total operating expenses, $1.25; advertising, 1 cent; park, 3 cents; music, 11-2 cents; total special, 21 cents; interest and sinking funds, 29 cents; grand total $1.85.

Band Fund Slashed
If the Santa Ana Municipal band is to be continued this year, it will have to be done on $3000 instead of $9472, as spent last year, the board decided. Allowance of only one and a half cents is made for the music fund this year.

A number of persons and committees have requested the council to keep the band this year, but due to economy measures adopted, the amount allowed is less than a third of the amount allotted last year.

One councilman said that he would be in favor of cutting out the band fund altogether thereby saving $3000, if the present band was not kept. It is not known whether the Santa Ana Municipal band can be kept together with the amount of money allocated to it this year.

Other councilmen were said to favor giving the city all the music it could get for $3000, whether it be the old band or not.

The finance committee of the Chamber of Commerce met with the council at the afternoon session yesterday and asked that the amount of the advertising fund be set at $4000 for the year.

C. of C. Plea Denied
The committee, which was composed of William Jerome, John Knox, Earl Morrow, Alex Brownridge and George Raymer were told that if the amount was increased over the tentative amount of $2000, that the tax rate would have to be raised another cent and that the council would be opposed to a higher rate than $1.85.

Jerome pointed out the need for more money at this time, declaring that it would be almost impossible to "hold things together" on less money.

The council failed to give an inch in its stand for a fund of only $2000, and this is the amount the budget carried with the ordinance was given its first reading last night.

The city spent $10,063 from the advertising fund last year.

Are You a DEPOSITOR?

WHEN a person applies at a bank for a loan, either unsecured or on collateral, one of the first questions asked is "Are you a customer of this bank?"

It is only fair that in making loans those who have helped put the money in bank should have the right of way when it comes to using the money.

If you are planning for success in business, form the banking habit. Accumulate a reserve in a savings account; keep a reasonable balance in your checking account. Get acquainted with your banker as a depositor...then when you need to borrow the question "Are you a depositor?" will not embarrass you.

More

President Hoover was persuaded to take the leap from prohibition reform because of the political situation in the East.

The carpet in front of his desk was worn out by seaboard leaders on bonded knees imploring such action. They told him he could sweep everything from Maine to Pennsylvania.

The prohibition section of the speech was actually written in large part by shrewd Senator George Moses of New Hampshire. That is why it was not in the usual Hoover style.

Drive
Now you will see the most strongly concentrated political campaign in that section ever staged by any political party.

The President's old publicity expert, George Akerson is opening a 40 room suite in the Waldorf this week. He will hold 200 conferences with the press each day.

That means a closer contact with the New York press than exists nationally in Washington.

Mr. Hoover will make two and possibly three eastern speeches. One will be in New York, another in Boston. A third may go to New Jersey.

Present plans call for only two more speeches in all the rest of the country. One is scheduled for Ohio and another for Illinois.

If the going gets rough later on, the western itinerary may be enlarged.

Borah
The speech fixed it so Senator Borah may come back to the fold later on. His prohibition views had to be turned down because of the eastern political situation. But he got nearly everything he wanted in an international way.

The President's words on debts were soft so as not to startle anyone. His intentions were bold. He invited our debtors to settle in such a way as to restore prosperity and effect disarmament—the Borah idea. The only thing he did not do was call an international conference for that purpose. This phase will be taken care of later on.

HOOPER
Hoover's acceptance speech was favorably received in the financial district although there was no tossing of coins or air with enthusiasm. Hoover's supporters had much of the contention that he displayed more firmness and courage than had been expected. Unquestionably he won votes for himself in his neck of the woods.

The most interesting passage in the speech to Wall Street was the reference to debts. Despite vagueness of wording, it was widely and favorably interpreted as a tacit acceptance of the principles advocated by Al Smith and the Railway Brotherhoods some months ago.

The remarks on prohibition were considered the best that could be hoped for under the circumstances. There was some disappointment that beer was not mentioned but the doom of the 18th amendment is now thought to be definitely sealed.

Walker
Jimmy Walker's friends here have pretty well made up their minds that he is on his way to the outer darkness.

When Walker's surrebuttal was delivered to Roosevelt, the Governor made for the Mayor's secretary a pencilled diagram showing exactly how the executive chamber would be arranged for the hearing. The number and location of seats allotted for the Governor's own people, for the accusing parties and for the Mayor's party were definitely designated. The diagram was furnished with the clear message that there was to be no gallery and that the hearing was not to be a spectacle but a trial. The Mayor's associate perspired heavily as he watched the pencil point.

Governor Roosevelt himself arranged all the details. He was primarily concerned that affairs should be conducted with the greatest of dignity and the greatest of fairness to the man on trial. The irritations and obstacles created for the Presidential nominee by Walker as Tammany's upstate leader were brushed aside as dead and done.

New Jersey Judge Dies in Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Aug. 16.—(UP)—Judge Nelson Y. Dungan, 65, of Somerville, N. J., dropped dead while attending a motion picture here late last night.

He had come to Southern California three weeks ago with his wife, a daughter, Ruth, and a son, Nelson, to attend the Olympic Games, and had been visiting relatives in Glendale, Calif.

Lost 20 lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at McCoy Drug Co.—2 stores—or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back—(Adv.)

EXHIBITION OF POSTAL STAMPS OPENS IN L. A.

Collections valued at more than $1,000,000 will be shown at the Fourth National Postage Stamp Exhibition, to be held all this week in Los Angeles and to which the general public will be admitted, according to E. A. Baker, of Santa Ana, president of the Orange County Philatelic society.

Baker said that Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be the best days for attendance. The doors will be open from noon until 10 p. m. Thursday and Friday, and from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. Saturday.

The exhibition will occupy the entire second floor of the Cabrillo Hotel building, Eleventh street and Broadway, Los Angeles. At the same time, the Philatelic club will be hosts of the annual convention of the American Philatelic society.

More than 500 frames of stamps will be on display, including the United States issues will be shown in great detail, including the rare Buchanan stamp, early California Pony Express covers, and other rarities. The popular Cape of Good Hope triangular will be in evidence, as well as collections of all other foreign countries.

The U. S. post office will operate a branch of the Philatelic agency, where collectors may purchase U. S. stamps for their collection. On August 18, the new 6-cent stamp and 6-cent postage stamp, in white, blue and green will be placed on sale for the first time, exclusively at the exhibition, and will be postmarked with a special first day cancellation if mailed at the exhibition.

Stamp fans and non-collectors as well will be charmed at the beauty of the exhibits, Baker said.

TEXAS HURRICANE DEAD TOTALS 33

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 16.—(UP)—Full extent of damages wrought by a week end hurricane known today as relief workers penetrated stricken communities.

Repaired communication lines brought reports of additional casualties, setting the number of known dead at 33. Damage in the 400 square-mile area was raised from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000. Three hundred persons were listed as having received medical attention.

Trucks and freight cars carried supplies of building materials, food, water, medicine and clothing to small coastal towns that bore the brunt of the tropical winds.

Conduct Funeral Of Daniel Marks

Military funeral services for Daniel A. Marks, 55, who passed away Sunday at the Savtelle veterans' hospital, and who was a veteran of the Civil war, were held this afternoon from the Smith and Tutill funeral home.

The aged veteran had been color bearer for the Sedgwick post, Grand Army of the Republic, and carried the colors the last time they were used. The flag was used today at the funeral services, with J. R. Moore of the Sons of Union Veterans carrying the flag.

Mr. Marks had been a resident of this city for the past 20 years, living at 1007 West Myrtle. As a boy of 14, Mr. Marks enlisted in the Union army, taking the name of his foster parents, that of Holbrook, his parents having passed away when he was very young.

He was born in Terra Haute, Ind., and had been at Savtelle for the past two months.

Seek Permit for Revival Meetings

Formal request was made the city council last night for permission to stage another series of John Brown meetings in the same location the evangelistic meetings were held here several months ago, in the 900 block on South Broadway.

The council took no action other than to appoint Councilman E. G. Warner as a committee of one to work with the revival committee to determine if the property owners and residents of the district objected to the meeting.

The meetings are to start on September 18 and continue for several weeks, it was announced.

SUPERVISORS DELAY ACTION OVER GAS TAX

presented. Last Tuesday the board was requested by representatives of various cities and the Farm Bureau to reduce the county road tax from 40 cents to 10 cents, instead of the proposed cut to 22 cents on property outside cities and two cents on property on the whole county.

Since the last meeting, the letter says, the county proposed budget has been carefully perused.

Wages Too High
As laymen, the letter declared, it would seem from the standpoint of the taxpayer that salaries and wages are too high.

This was called to the attention of the board in the hope that the members would peruse the general overhead involved in the care of roads with a view to, if possible, reducing this item.

The plans of the supervisors in the budget and the plan as outlined by the Farm Bureau and cities differ. The supervisors' plan allows $177,000 in aid to cities and districts; provides for a 22-cent tax on property outside cities and two cents on whole county, and raises $130,456 more money, according to the letter.

The Farm Bureau and cities plan allows $241,679 in aid to cities and districts; only provides for a 10-cent tax on property in unincorporated areas and none inside cities, and shows a total of $71,222 less to be spent than under the supervisors' plan, the letter says.

The difference in the plans is that the granting of the 32 1/2 per cent (asked by the cities) of the $355,963 estimated receipts from licenses, etc., fees equals $115,679, as compared with the $51,000 included in the supervisors' proposed budget, and makes a total aid to the cities and districts of $241,679 as compared with the supervisors' aid to the cities and districts of $177,000, according to the letter.

Farm Bureau Letter
Excerpts from the letter of the Farm Bureau follow:

"Since our meeting with you last Tuesday, we have carefully perused your proposed budget as compiled by W. T. Lambert, county auditor, and made available to the taxpayers on August 9. According to our interpretation of this budget, you have set $784,923 for the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges.

This includes $202,322 for salaries and wages; $205,789 for maintenance and operation; $51,000 for aid to cities; $65,000 for aid to special road districts from the general license fund; $58,000 for aid to special districts from the funds of Supervisorial District No. 3.

"Without having had the opportunity to discuss these items with you and to go into the projects in detail, it would seem to us as laymen, from the standpoint of the taxpayer, that the salaries and wages item looks high. We would call this to your attention in the hope that you will peruse the general overhead involved in the care of roads, with a view to, if possible, reducing this item.

"Sources of funds: Gas taxes and their reserves, $405,128; 22-cent tax on outside, $186,246; county general fund, $29,220; unappropriated reserves in supervisorial district funds, $38,210; total, $658,804.

"Proposed road expenditures, as proposed by the Orange County Farm Bureau and the cities of Orange county: 880 miles at $317, $278,960; city aid, 32 1/2 per cent of $355,963, $115,679; aid to special road districts (1932-33 supervisors' figures), $126,000; encumbrances, $8,202; total, $600,841.

"Sources of funds—Farm Bureau plan: Gas taxes and their reserves $405,128; 10-cent tax on outside, $85,000; unappropriated reserves in supervisorial district funds $38,210; total $528,338.

How Plans Differ: Supervisors' Plan: 1. Allows $177,000 in aid to cities and districts. 2. Provides for a 22-cent tax on property outside and 2 cents ($29,220) on whole county. 3. Raises $130,456 more money.

Farm Bureau Plan: 1. Allows $241,679 in aid to cities and districts. 2. Only provides for a 10-cent tax on property in unincorporated area and none inside cities. 3. Shows a total to be spent of $71,222 less than Supervisors' plan.

"You will note that we include in the comparative figures 880 miles of roads, while the report of the road department as of July 1, 1932, shows 1058 miles of roads. However, the latter figure includes 101 miles of right-of-way which we assume will not require any cost of maintenance and also 168 miles in the county and road system for which we observe you have set up for maintenance and construction of upkeep an item of $61,260 which you have carried over from last year as a reserve—thus requiring no direct property tax to maintain this mileage. Likewise, you carried over $13,400 in the bridge funds to take care of a like expenditure proposed for bridges for this year.

"We want to take this opportunity to say to you that we greatly appreciate the splendid effort that you have made in reducing the road budget from approximately $1,600,000 last year, to $784,000 this year. You will observe that in the comparative figures we show above, your cost for maintaining the 880 miles of roads is $675,063 less $96,202 of encumbrances and $177,000 aid to cities and special districts—a net expenditure of $481,861, or an average of $466 per mile, while we have in our request an estimated maintenance of $317 per mile—a difference of $149 per mile."

prepared to put those words into practice, and on the return of the French ambassador, Andre Francois Yvonnet, from his vacation, intends to start discussions, possibly next week, looking to revision of the Versailles provisions.

In the impending conversations, Germany will demand, first, reduction of the 12-year term of army service to six years. The Versailles treaty imposed a mercenary army on Germany with a 12-year enlistment term, which experts regard as psychologically damaging to the troops.

Wants Arms Plants
Secondly, Germany will demand the right to manufacture arms at various plants which also will produce other products. Under the agreement of the ambassadors' conference, Germany is now permitted to manufacture arms at 33 designated factories, and the quantity of arms is fixed.

Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr. was kidnapped from his crib on the second floor of the Lindbergh home near Hopewell, between 8:20 and 10 p. m. on Tuesday, March 1, last. The kidnappers left a note demanding $50,000 ransom.

May 12 Col. Norman Schwartzkopf head of the New Jersey state police, announced that the baby had been found, dead.

The little body lay in a thicket, close to a road near the Lindbergh home at Hopewell. The child had been murdered, the body abandoned, on the night of the kidnapping and flight of the abductors.

Certain it is that the search for the kidnappers continues at this moment. At one time federal agents, New Jersey state police, agents of the Morrow and Lindbergh families and the police forces of a dozen world capitals combined in that desperate but futile search. It is not known to what degree this activity had been sustained. But unquestionably it continues.

SECOND SON IN LINDBERGH FAMILY BORN

play their parts upon the wide stage of news.

World Gets News
With news of the birth, cables flashed the word to London and Tokyo, which knew the gay young couple when they flew the northern Pacific route, to Mexico City where they met and became engaged.

Knowledge of the forthcoming birth of a second child had heightened anxiety throughout the tragic days in which 20 month old Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr. was sought. Because of Mrs. Lindbergh's condition, the couple had moved to Englewood from their own home in Hopewell and remained here throughout the summer. Mrs. Morrow herself, the grandmother, had returned from Europe only a few days ago, to await the birth.

Mrs. Lindbergh remained in seclusion, attended by Dr. E. M. Hawk and Dr. E. H. Dennen, who also were attendant at the birth today. Col. Lindbergh likewise was seldom seen, except hurrying to and from his mid-town office. It was only yesterday that, for the first time in months, he visited Newark airport, took an airplane aloft, tested it in dives and spins for almost an hour.

"Just business, you know—part of my job," he smiled. A bare-headed boyish figure, he seemed relaxed and rested, a different man from the tense, taut dynamo of energy who had personally led the search for kidnappers of his first child, who had been through the underbrush of Sourland mountain, down up and down the foggy coast for mythical rendezvous at sea, had stood, head bowed, before a tiny twisted body he knew for that of his laughing curly haired son.

Certain it is that the search for the kidnappers continues at this moment. At one time federal agents, New Jersey state police, agents of the Morrow and Lindbergh families and the police forces of a dozen world capitals combined in that desperate but futile search. ## Local Briefs

Persons interested in the John Brown evangelistic meetings now in progress in Fullerton have been invited to meet at the First Christian church, Sixth and Broadway, at 7:30 o'clock tonight for a prayer meeting.

Mrs. Ella Campau, 801 French street, who has been confined to her home with illness for some weeks, was removed yesterday to the Seaside hospital at Long Beach, where she will be placed under medical observation for a period of two weeks. Mrs. Campau's brother, William Alden Smith, former United States senator from Michigan, recently returned to his home in Grand Rapids following a visit with his sister here.

"SEATRANS" NEAR COMPLETION

CHESTER, Pa. (UP)—Two "seatrains," a new type of ocean cargo-carrying vessels, are nearing completion at the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation yards here.

Each deck has four rows of standard-gauge railroad track. The ship will accommodate 113 railroad cars of any type, including box cars, flat cars, gondolas and tank cars.

MILE OF DIRT ROAD TO COST NEARLY $6000

C. G. Payne construction company of Laguna Beach was the low bidder for building a mile of dirt fill road which is to be an extension of West First street from Seal Beach easterly to Santa Ana. It was discovered when bids for the project were opened by the board of supervisors this morning.

All Orange county trucks and men must be used in the highway work, the members of the board of supervisors told the competing bidders, and instructed County Road Superintendent Nat Neff to see that this was done.

Payne bid 53 cents per cubic yard for material and placing of material while Steele Finley bid 49 cents; T. G. Smith of Huntington Park 52 cents; Owl Truck and Material company of Compton 74 1-5 cents; and C. G. Wills of Los Angeles 48 1-2 cents.

The bid was not awarded at the morning session, however, but all bids were referred to Superintendent Neff for tabulation and recommendation. The project will cost around $6000, according to Neff, insofar as the work and material concerned in the bids is concerned.

ARRANGE FUNERAL OF EMMA CHAPMAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma M. Chapman, 59, wife of A. E. Chapman, who passed away at her home at 510 South Flower street yesterday, will be held from the Smith and Tuttle chapel Wednesday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, in accordance with a last request of Mrs. Chapman.

Burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery. Sarah A. Rounds tent No. 10, Daughters of the Union Veterans, will have charge of services. Mrs. Chapman had been active in that order for a number of years, and had served the organization as president. She was identified also with the Woman's Relief Corps, P. T. A. and other fraternal and civic bodies.

Interested in music and with a carefully trained voice, she was prominent in the Orange County Choral Union when it was a leading cultural group in the county, and more recently had been identified with the Treble Clef club.

Mrs. Chapman was a native Kansan, and as Miss Emma Webster was married on Christmas day, 1898, to A. E. Chapman in Westmoreland, Kansas. They made their home there until 1902 when they came directly to Santa Ana.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Chapman is survived by two sons, Frank Chapman of Walnut street, and George Chapman, who is with his father in the Flower street home; one sister, Mrs. Catherine Skinner of Los Angeles, and one brother, Frank Webster of St. Paul, Minn., who was here a month ago for a farewell visit with his sister. Charles Chapman, Orange county supervisor, is a brother of Mr. Chapman.

ESSIE HANSON HELD ON DRIVING COUNT

Essie Hanson, Orange woman, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor after the automobile she was said to have been driving collided with another machine, was held to answer to the superior court at the conclusion of her preliminary examination in Judge A. W. Swayze's Orange justice court yesterday.

She was alleged to have been driving a car in which Cleo Campbell, 21, of 390 North Cambridge street, Orange, was riding when it collided with a machine driven by Tommy Willets, 24, of 88 West Sixth street, Pomona. Willets, Miss Campbell, Miss Hanson and Gladys Sanders, 19, of Pomona, were reported hurt.

The accident occurred almost directly in front of the Orange county hospital, a week ago, and the injured were taken there for treatment.

CRAIL MEETING WILL BE HELD AT BIRCH PARK

Congressman Joe Crail, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, will discuss problems of the day at a mass meeting to be held at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening at Birch park.

Large delegations of Crail-for-Senator supporters from Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange and other metropolitan centers of Orange county are planning a rousing welcome for the congressman at the meeting, according to Jack Wallace, Crail county chairman.

Proceeding the mass meeting in Santa Ana, Congressman Crail will speak at an open air dinner in the public park at Fullerton at which members of the Frank Walton League and other prominent sportsmen of Orange county will participate.

Friends of Congressman Crail in the county are planning to turn out en masse at both Fullerton and Santa Ana meetings as his Wednesday night visit probably will be his last personal call in Orange county before the primary election of August 30.

There are more than 30,000 lakes in Florida.

PLANE DERBY TO MARK START OF AIR CARNIVAL

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Designed as the most pretentious aeronautical competitive event ever staged in this country, a new type of transcontinental air derby has been announced as the opening event on the 1932 National Air Races program.

One hundred or more flyers are expected to participate in what probably will be the most gigantic competitive flight in the history of aviation. The race will start August 21 from both coasts of the nation and will finish at the National Air Races airport in Cleveland August 21, the opening day of the annual ten-day air carnival.

If the event proves to be as successful as its sponsors expect, it will become an annual affair and will be known as the National Transcontinental Sweepstakes Derby. Both men and women pilots are eligible in any type of registered aircraft.

Prizes valued at more than $20,000 are to be offered the winners. The Cord cup, a new trophy, will become the permanent possession of the grand sweepstakes winner. A custom-built automobile will be awarded the winners of the east and west divisions. Lap prizes will be posted at every stopover city.

Contesting pilots will be divided into two divisions, one starting from the Atlantic coast and the other from the Pacific, each heading toward a mid-continental point, probably Dallas, Tex. At Dallas, the two groups will merge and continue into Cleveland together, arriving to launch the 1932 Air Races program.

Handicaps and methods of starting the contestants from each of the stopover points enroute to Cleveland in the new derby have been radically changed from the much-disapproved plan used last year for the cross-country event.

Three neutral pilots will test each ship over a straightaway course both with and against the wind to fix the craft's maximum speed which will become the basis of its handicap rating. The rating will be transposed into minutes and seconds and the handicaps will be absorbed in each case at the start, that is, the slowest ship taking off first and the fastest last.

Under the procedure, the first ship to flash by the finish pylon at each of the stopover points will be the winner of that lap. Sweepstakes prizes will go to the winners of the most number of laps.

Cliff Henderson, managing director of the races, is now touring the country by air mapping the route for the derby and making arrangements for flagging the racers at the end of each lap.

Silver Cord Lodge No. 505, F. and A. M., Wednesday evening, Aug. 17, 8:30 p. m. Dance for members at Valencia ballroom, on highway, near Fair grounds. 25c per couple. All Master Masons and wives invited.

ROUTING OF BUS LINE IS CHANGED

Several changes are to be made in the route taken by the Santa Ana-Tustin bus lines inside the city limits of Santa Ana. It was announced today by Richard Winchell, holder of the bus franchises.

He appeared before the city council last night and asked that parking space be given him, at Fifth and Broadway. The request was turned over to the street commissioner for action.

Winchell today announced that the bus would operate on Fourth street to Birch street, south on Birch to Third street, east to Broadway on Third street, north on Broadway to Fourth street, Fourth street to Spruence street, south to Third street, west to Birch street, Birch to Fourth and south to Fourth to Tustin.

The changes were made, it was announced, so that passengers would be closer to stores and to the markets.

Hospital Reports Rancher Better

The condition of John Buchheim, El Toro rancher, who was reported to have been taken to the Orange county hospital early yesterday morning in a serious condition from drinking de-natured alcohol, was reported better today.

Hospital attendants said the man's condition was greatly improved and that he probably would be taken home shortly.

CITIZENS ASK CITY LEGAL AD RETENTION OF BIDS REJECTED CROSSING GATE BY S. A. COUNCIL

Several protests against the removal of the railroad safety gates on East Fourth street were heard by the city council last night, at which time it passed a resolution asking that the gates be retained, which will be presented to the railroad commission.

The railroad commission will hold a meeting in the supervisors' rooms at the county court house here next Thursday to decide whether the railroad companies be allowed to take down the gates, substituting instead wig wag signals.

The city will battle the move through City Attorney Clyde Downing, but at the same time the council has asked that other organizations and individuals interested in keeping the gates attend the meeting to add protests to the city's protest.

Joe Mitchener, secretary of the East Santa Ana Improvement association, appeared before the board last night to protest the move in the name of the organization. A letter was received from Mrs. P. M. Mohr, of 1116 West Fifth street, voicing her protest on the grounds there would be a number of persons killed there if the gates were removed.

WILL WIDEN STATE HIGHWAY AT SERRA

The board of supervisors adopted a resolution at the session this morning setting September 27 as the date for a public hearing on the acquisition of ten feet of land on each side of Foster avenue between Prior avenue and Mission street, Serra, for widening the state highway at that point.

The board denied a request made by Paul G. Moreno to establish a poolroom in Westminster. A letter was received by the board from James Irvine, rancher, calling their attention to a pamphlet issued by the California State Chamber of Commerce regarding that body's legislative program and recommendations for tax reduction. Irvine stated in the letter that perhaps the board of supervisors could be helped to draw up the county budget by some of the suggestions contained in the pamphlet.

Downing To Make Broadcast

Continuing a discussion of his opponent's record which was started in a radio address last week, City Attorney Clyde Downing, candidate for the Republican nomination for the state senate from Orange county, will speak over KREG again tonight.

Downing's talk will be broadcast between 7:45 and 8 p. m. He will also outline his stand on various questions of interest to voters in connection with legislation and government.

DAIRYMEN TO CONFER IN L. A. ON PRICE WAR

Because of the drastic effects of the milk "wars" which have been waging in the Los Angeles milk shed area and in counties adjoining Orange county, the governor of the state has called a special conference of key dairymen and others interested in the problem. The conference will be held in the assembly room in the State building, Los Angeles, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A communication was received today by R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, from Fred C. Segelken, administrative assistant director of the state department of agriculture, telling him of the conference.

Both Flaherty and R. F. Hazard, chairman of the Orange County Farm Bureau dairy department, will attend the meeting as representatives of Orange county. Similar representatives will be present from all other counties.

At the conference, an effort will be made to formulate a solution to present chaotic state of the dairy industry. Orange county has been affected to some extent, but not as much as other adjacent areas, according to Flaherty. Milk has been selling as low as one cent a quart in Los Angeles. It was pointed out that nothing but disaster could result to milk producers with such prices prevalent.

Woman Serving Liquor Sentence

Mary Navarro, of El Modena, whose home was raided by Constable George M. Bartley and 21 privates of liquor discovered, has been sentenced to a county jail sentence of 25 days imposed by Judge A. W. Sayre. The woman was fined $100, with $50 suspended, but was unable to pay the fine.

SMITHSONIAN EXPERT GUEST IN SANTA ANA

Thomas E. Williams, head of the printing department at the Santa Ana Junior college and high school, is supervising the publication of the book, "Chinichinich," dealing with the beliefs and customs of the Capistrano Indians, has been engaged in conference during the past two days with national authorities on Indian lore, ethnology and the history of the Southwest.

Today Williams was conferring with M. W. Stirling, head of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington and representative of the Bureau of American Ethnology, and with John P. Herrington, authority on the Indian language. Stirling, who has been attending the Olympic Games in Los Angeles, was a guest at the Rotary club meeting here this noon.

Saturday Williams held consultation with S. W. Hodge, director of the Southwest Museum, Los Angeles, who will pen the introduction to the volume, and with Henry R. Wagner, expert on the history of California and the Southwest.

All four visitors visited the Bowser Memorial museum on North Main street during their Santa Ana stay and were strong in their praise of the new construction and its historical contents.

PROGRAM GIVEN AT REBEKAH SESSION

ORANGE, Aug. 16.—The program presented at the meeting of the Ruby Rebekah lodge last night was in charge of the Past Noble Grand of the group. Plans were made at a business meeting for the district meeting to be held at Westminster August 22, when the Orange lodge will exemplify the examining and introduction of visitors. Mrs. Jessica Fornier, of Los Angeles, will be in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for a picnic to be held August 29 at Irvine park, when all Orange Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are to be welcomed.

A program was given under the direction of Mrs. Roy Cavett and numbers included a trombone solo by Ronald McDaniel, who was accompanied by Mrs. Kathleen Pister; clarinet, flute and piano trio by Lillian Morrow, Hazel Morrow and Crystal Hofer. Vocal solo by Miss Lora Gouls who was accompanied by Miss Virginia Lee Harper; violin solo by June Ragsdale, accompanied by Miss Margaret Ragsdale; piano solo by Miss Margaret Ragsdale, piano solo by Erna Goodrich.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Gerlie Fields.

Former Resident Dies At San Diego

News of the passing of Miss Alice Ware, cousin of Mrs. Earl Morris of 812 East First street, and resident of this city from 1913 to 1922, was received with regret by Santa Ana acquaintances today. Miss Ware's death occurred Saturday night in San Diego. For the past 10 years she has been a resident in the San Diego home of Colonel Milton A. McRae of the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain. No funeral service is planned.

Coming to California in 1913 from her former home in Dowagiac, Mich., Miss Ware made her home with her cousin in the Morris residence here for a period of her Santa Ana stay, moving to the McRae home in San Diego after nine years in this city.

AUTOISTS NAME COUNTY IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

The county of Orange today became defendant in a suit for damages totaling $21,963.50 which has been filed in superior court by E. W. Brockman and Roy C. Binnion, Corona businessmen.

Brockman is asking $10,622.50 and Binnion is demanding $11,341 for personal injuries sustained when a car driven by Binnion fell into the creek bed off the Yorba bridge in Santa Ana canyon on November 7, 1931.

The car is said to have crashed into the side of the bridge, causing one end of the bridge to come down. The bridge collapsed and the car fell into the creek bed. The plaintiffs charge that the bridge was defective and that the county of Orange is directly responsible for the mishap. Binnion was driving the car and Brockman was a passenger.

Both of the men had previously presented demands for compensation for their injuries to the board of supervisors but the demands were refused, the board taking the stand that the bridge was not defective and the accident was caused by the car striking the side of the bridge.

The plaintiffs in the action are represented by Attorney Alfonso Gamali.

FAVORITES SURVIVE BEACH TENNIS PLAY

LONG BEACH, Aug. 16.—(UP)—The annual Long Beach Open tennis tournament continued today with seeded favorites safely through their opening matches. In the women's singles Gladys Patz eliminated Dorothy Richards, 6-0, 6-1; May Dogg eliminated Rosamond Lamb, 6-1, 6-0, and

FIRE MENACES WINTERSBURG COUNTRY CLUB

The Long Beach Country club, located at Wintersburg, was menaced by a fire which was discovered at 9:30 o'clock last night. Because of fast work on the part of two employees, A. K. Thomas and Melville Tanner, assisted by ranchers living nearby, the flames were extinguished within a short time, the loss being estimated at $400.

According to Manager F. D. Wiley, the fire apparently started when rats gnawed matches between the walls in the cafe quarters. Damage was confined to two rest rooms and the walls and partitions.

According to Wiley, the rat theory is the most logical since the flames broke out in a section of the clubhouse that does not contain electrical wiring. The present clubhouse was built two years ago following a fire which completely destroyed the original clubhouse.

Tanner and Thomas were operating a sprinkling system near the clubhouse at the time the flames broke through the roof. They quickly brought garden hose into play and with a bucket brigade formed by neighbors soon had the flames extinguished.

Urges Farmers' Sons To Attend College In Fall

Now is the most favorable time for young men to go to school because their earning capacity at home or elsewhere is unusually small, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. It would be worth while for farmers to consider sending their sons to an agricultural school in order that they may be better equipped to meet competition in modern methods of farming, he said.

Any boy 15 years of age, or a high school graduate, is eligible to enter the non-degree curriculum in the branch of the College of Agriculture at Davis, says the farm advisor. Two years are required to complete the course and obtain a certificate of graduation. For the boy who is qualified to enter the university, the four-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of science is recommended because additional opportunities would be open to him then. Many of the leading farmers of the state, at the present time, are former non-degree students. Usually, there are about twice as many students enrolled in the two-year as in the four-year course.

Dorothy Workman defeated Fern Mosle, 6-0, 6-1.

Carl Busch, Long Beach ace, was forced to a 12-10 set to eliminate Ted Gardner after winning the first set, 6-4. Bill Amundsen easily defeated Verne Hughes, 6-2, 6-2.

BENNY LEONARD TO BOX AT HOLLYWOOD?

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 16.—(UP)—Tod Morgan, former world's junior lightweight champion, and Baby Sal Sorio have been matched for the headline 10-round bout of boxing matches at American Legion stadium Friday night. Their records show that neither probably will enter the ring a pronounced favorite.

It was announced that an offer would be made Benny Leonard to meet the winner.

"I understand Leonard would like to come to California, and we will make him a bid at Hollywood," said Gene Doyle, stadium manager.

AWARDED $5000 FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

James Becker was awarded $5000 damages for personal injuries suffered in an automobile accident by a jury in Judge G. K. Soovel's department of superior court late yesterday afternoon.

The defendant in the action was the Golden Crest Dairy company and Owen White, a driver for the company. Becker charged that a truck belonging to the company and being driven by White was parked between Santa Ana and Anaheim at night with no lights, showing when he crashed into the rear end of the truck.

Becker had asked for $52,000 damages as the result of the permanent loss of the use of the fingers of his right hand which occurred when the tendons and veins in his arm were cut through when he was thrown against the windshield.

ARCHERY TO BE INCLUDED IN PLAY PROGRAM

Beginning on Wednesday at 4:15 p. m. the art of archery will be taught at the Olive Bowl regularly each day, through arrangements made by the city council of the P. T. A. Those wishing this instruction must be over 12 years of age, and adults may take advantage of the instruction as well.

W. M. Carithers, who is the instructor, was scout master in Redlands for 16 years, was physical director of Redlands Y. M. C. A. for four years and was trainer of the Indiana university track team for three years.

The work is especially recommended for Boy Scouts who wish to pass archery tests. Instructions will be made along the lines of laying out the bow, feathering arrows and balancing bows. Books on archery will be suggested for reading in connection with the practical teaching. There is to be no charge for the course and it will be continued throughout the year. Carithers is a resident of this city.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

SEN. EDWARDS ENDORSED BY ORANGE BOARD

ORANGE, Aug. 16.—Explaining that the action of the county Board of Strategy in not recommending Sen. Nels T. Edwards, prominent Orange resident, as a candidate for state senator had been taken because Edwards would not make a statement that he would not take a drink at a social function if such a situation arose, D. C. Drake, president of the Orange Board of Strategy, at a meeting held last night declared that Edwards was strictly dry.

The explanation and statement followed a resolution adopted by the board recommending Edwards as a candidate and preceded action asking the county board to rescind its action omitting Edwards' name on the list of candidates endorsed by the county board. Last night's meeting was held in the First Presbyterian church.

The motion to adopt the resolution was made by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who said he had been wondering if a mistake had not been made by the county board's exclusion of Edwards' name from the list of candidates presented.

Dr. McAulay's motion to adopt the resolution was seconded by Jesse F. Campbell, Drake, who was in charge of the meeting, appointed a committee to interview the chairman of the county Board of Strategy and to present the resolution passed by the Orange board. The committee includes Jesse F. Campbell, F. L. Ainsworth and D. C. Drake.

A motion asking for the recommendation of Edwards by the Orange board was made by Jay Skiles, vice president of the organization, and was adopted. Drake stated that he had had an interview with the chairman of the county Board of Strategy, and that the latter had said that a special meeting of the county board would be called under certain conditions. Drake declared that he could not make these conditions public at present. He emphasized the fact that the drys must keep peace.

Dr. McAulay said that he believed that Edwards was personally dry and that he did not favor the recommendation of candidates who are personally wet and politically dry. He said that Edwards' reputation as a dry and as a government official who upheld public morals, was well known in Sacramento. Mrs. R. W. Jones paid a high tribute to Edwards, and declared that he was against the resubmission of the 15th amendment. A letter was read from Frank F. Merriam, lieutenant governor, to Mrs. Jones in which a record of Edwards' activities as state senator and his record as such was given. A telegram to Perry Ma this, chairman of the county Board of Strategy, was read as follows: "Edwards has legislative record on all moral measures including prohibition 100 per cent good. As legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, I am in practically all sessions of the legislature and am therefore in position to know."

Election Plans Are Outlined At Board's Session

ORANGE, Aug. 16.—Plans were outlined last night at a meeting of the Orange Board of Strategy to get out at both the primary election of August 30 and at the general election on November 8. Mrs. Minnie Neville, president of the Orange W. C. T. U., explained a plan which was put in operation by the union in making a canvass of the city before election. Efforts in the campaign, she said, should be concentrated on the doubtfuls and the declared wets should be left alone.

A decision was reached to obtain literature which is to be given out from house to house by a personal canvass which is to be under the supervision of the W. C. T. U. It was pointed out that volunteers were needed to get voters to the polls and S. B. Edwards was appointed a chairman of a committee for this purpose. Other members of the committee are Jesse F. Campbell and F. L. Ainsworth. Committee meetings for the purchase of literature and for to make arrangements for the campaigns are to be held soon.

EASY ON POCKETBOOKS
Holland has made a big bid for tourists this summer by reducing the cost not only of the steamship passage, which is common to all trans-Atlantic lines, but hotel accommodations and rail fares. At Scheveningen, for example, the finest hotels and they are among the finest in Europe, $3.20 a day cover room and meals. On the railroads eight-day season tickets are now issued, which enable the tourist to go anywhere in the country for less than a dollar a day. With no Dutch visa charge for Americans, Holland may expect a good many to enjoy her hospitality.

RANCHERS AND OTHER

PRODUCERS TO OPERATE OWN MARKET

The new Public Market which opens next Saturday August 20th at 417 West Fourth, Santa Ana, will be operated by ranchers, orange growers, manufacturers, and other producers under a new syndicate plan. Anyone who has anything to sell may secure stall in this new marketplace for the small fee of only 50c per day. This small fee allows producers to sell direct to the consumer at the lowest possible selling cost, and permits the housewife and other buyers to secure their vegetables, fruits, etc. fresh from the ranch, at very lowest cost because of the small selling costs involved.

In Seattle, and other cities where this plan is in operation these Producers' Public Markets are proving to be the most popular and highly patronized of all the market places.

While this Producers' Market will be used chiefly by those raising eatable products, anyone may secure these stalls and it is expected that the opening day, next Saturday, will see the entire 30 stalls of the market filled and ready to give the housewives and others the thrill of their lives in real genuine bargains. (Adv.)

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Nichols of 155 North Orange street, were guests Sunday in the Fullerton home of Mr. Nichols' cousin, Mrs. J. B. Mitchell.

Roland Goetsch has returned to the university at Davis to resume his second year's horticulture course there. He was accompanied by Roland Wood and Horatio Yorba, this year's high school graduates, who will enroll for the horticulture course offered at the university.

The T. E. Arrowsmith family is spending a month at Huntington Beach.

A Kansas visitor in the C. E. Porter home is Miss Hannah Mast, who has not been in Southern California for several years.

Richard Gregg, son of Mrs. Cora Gregg of 405 East Maple street, is spending several days at Lake Arrowhead with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Spencer of Long Beach.

Thomas Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Powell of 173 South Pepper street, and his chum, Minnie Mechem, are spending a vacation on a cattle ranch in San Diego county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Krueger of Orange and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dickinson, of Santa Ana, were guests at a week end party held in the Los Angeles home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dyer.

Miss Annice A. Blythe, of 230 North Grand street, is spending several days in Los Angeles where she is a guest of New Orleans visitors to Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Christian, son and daughter, Miss Genevieve, entertained a group of friends Sunday with a dinner party. Guests who had assembled in the home included Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Esley and two children, Miss Dorothy and Gerald, of Oakland; Mrs. Arthur Mallory, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Haskin and Carl Reese, all of Whittier.

TWO MEETINGS ARRANGED FOR FRUIT GROWERS

ORANGE, Aug. 16.—Two mass meetings of citrus growers will be held in Orange county August 26 to present the latest data on economic factors affecting the price of oranges. Dr. H. R. Wellman, agricultural economist of the Agricultural Extension service, University of California, has been secured through the offices of Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg at the request of the citrus growers' department of the farm bureau.

Just now there is considerable interest in the prices of citrus fruits and the various factors that influence such as supply, employment, purchasing power and foreign exchange. Dr. Wellman will discuss these phases as they affect the citrus industry.

Every grower in Orange county is urged to attend, according to Wahlberg, regardless of his shipping affiliations. The mass meetings are scheduled to be held at the Anaheim Union High school at 2 p. m., and at the Orange Union High school at 7:30 p. m., August 26.

90th Anniversary Is Celebrated By Mrs. Hattie Bacon

ORANGE, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Hattie Bacon celebrated her 90th birthday yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Park, 235 East Maple avenue. Mrs. Bacon was a crusader in the temperance cause and has been a member of the W. C. T. U. since it was organized.

Many friends called at the Park residence yesterday to extend congratulations and bouquets were brought by individuals and by the representatives of the Women's Aid society of the First Methodist church, the Missionary society of the same organization and by the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Bacon presented each guest with a copy of the version of the gospel of St. John.

3 CANDIDATES IN JUDGE RACE GIVEN BACKING

ORANGE, Aug. 16.—Three candidates for judges of the superior court were endorsed by the Orange Board of Strategy at a meeting held last night. These candidates were James L. Allen, Franklin West and Homes Ames. The city board followed the action of the county board in these recommendations and Mrs. Minnie Neville made the motion which was adopted.

No action was taken by the board in the matter of a recommendation for United States Senator or for assemblymen although the names of all of these candidates were brought up. It was brought out that the county board had made no recommendations for state senator although the Southern California board had done so. The county board had endorsed B. Z. McKinney for congressman and Loyal K. King, James B. Utt, and Robert Speed for assemblymen in the 74th district, and Edward Craig in the 79th district. No action was taken in duplicating the county board's endorsements.

FULLER PARK

FULLER PARK, Aug. 16.—Mrs. W. J. Schulz is visiting her mother, Mrs. U. A. Reynolds, in Long Beach this week.

Mrs. J. W. Borch, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Cora Sullivan, of Los Angeles, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Blythe and daughter, Betty, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cook and son Bill enjoyed a picnic and swim at Recreation park and Belmont Shore Sunday.

Miss Stella Schulz spent Sunday at Los Angeles County playground. Velma and Robert Jr. Cleveland attended the Olympic rowing events at Long Beach Saturday. Miss Ruby Blythe left Monday for a several days visit with Miss Marjorie Wallace in El Segundo.

Carl Reynolds holds no grudge against Bill Dickey, the Yankee catcher who broke his jaw. But Carl is sorry he didn't have a chance to throw a punch right back.

The effete east points with pride at the achievement of Bill Carr in the 400 meters of the Olympics. But Bill Carr happens to be a young man who hails from Pine Bluff, Ark.

The tennis experts are saying that the new tennis king of the universe will be a 16-year-old boy from Milwaukee named Frankie Parker. But Frankie's real name happens to be Piskowski.

BUT THEN, OH WELL!

The Yankees and the Cubs may meet in a world series this fall. But Manager Joe McCarthy will be sorry that he couldn't lead his team against a club managed by Rogers Hornsby.

Primo Carnera is being booked for real fights these days. But the Ambling Alp is awakening to the discovery that there isn't much money in battling on top and up, and not much fun, either.

THE AMERICAN PLAN

American track experts severely criticized Lauri Lehtinen for cutting in front of Ralph Hill just as Hill was about to pass him in the 1000 meters. But in the Olympic skating events at Lake Placid, the same tactics was described as "smart American racing."

Joe Jacobs has apologized to the New York boxing commission and has been reinstated as a manager. But that isn't proof at all that Joe has changed his mind about Max Schmeling being handed a herring in his fight with Jack Sharkey.

ANTIQUE AWAKENS

Waite Hoyt was dismissed by the Brooklyn Dodgers as an antique. But Mr. Hoyt has been one of the most useful pitchers in the league since signing up with the Giants.

Detroit has quit talking about its pennant this year. But Bucky Harris remains one of the most popular men in town.

YOU MIGHT GET HIT

Jim Bausch lost 15 pounds while winning the decathlon. But don't tell any of the plump ladies in your neighborhood, because two of the events in the decathlon consist of hurling the discus and tossing the javelin.

Manager Marty McManus says that his Red Sox need for next year a pitcher, catcher and third baseman. But Marty doesn't say where he is going to find them.

The Yankees have fewer rules than any other club in baseball. But the discipline is splendid because the athletes understand.

CLOSE FINISHES

The Cincinnati Reds are in the National league cellar. But if the Reds had won half of the 26 games they lost by one run this year, the team would be right up there, indicating what a whale of a difference 26 runs can make in a whole baseball season.

Frank Frisch is being spoken of as possible choice to manage the Giants next year. But Frank Frisch will not manage the Giants next year, because Sam Broadbent thinks Frankie still can do the Cards a lot of good around second base.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16. — (UP)—The first upset of the annual invitation men's singles tennis tournament at Newport Casino was scored in the third round today when Sidney Wood third seeded and former Davis Cupper, was eliminated by Dave Jones of New York, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Jiro Sato, Japanese Davis Cup star, continued his brilliant play today to defeat Jake Hese, Jr., of Fort Worth, Texas, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2.

Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, ranked first nationally, was extended to defeat Bryan Grant, Jr., of Atlanta, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

Frank Shields was carried to an extra set in eliminating the New York Metropolitan champion, Richard Murphy, of Utica, N. Y., 7-5, 6-7, 6-3.

Rallying after the loss of a set, City Champion Randolph Bell came from behind to defeat Arno Finster, 7-9, 6-2, 6-3, in yesterday's feature match of the Santa Ana city tennis tournament, now rapidly drawing to a close at Frances Ward Junior High school.

Other results: Robinson def. Carman, 6-3, 6-0; Caverly d. Kidd, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2; Ranney d. Slaback, default; West d. Ranney, 8-6, 8-6; Greenwood d. Bettis, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5; Moon d. Eustis, default; Rawlings d. Demers, default; Dixon d. West, 6-3, 7-5.

SANTA ANA, ANAHEIM IN OPENER U. S. Tennis Officials Ired At Mrs. Moody

HELEN IGNORES TITLE PLAY TO STAY IN PARIS

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(UP)—The United States Lawn Tennis association, or rather, certain major officials of that august body, are rapidly, and with much gusto, souring on Mrs. Helen Willis Moody and what they consider her rather high handed tactics.

In fact, your alert correspondent learned at Forest Hills that there is a good chance that the U. S. L. T. A. will refuse to send Queen Helen aboard again. This, of course, depends on whether or not the aggrieved officials can gain enough support.

The grudge against Mrs. Moody is based, it seems, on her apparent indifference toward the National championships. She wins the title, and then refuses to defend it. She passed up the tournament in 1930, and right now, with the thing in full swing, is not closer than the Rue de la Paix.

Ingratitude Assured

Such business, certain officials argue, is nothing more than downright ingratitude. If the association is nice enough to dig down into its pocket for the money to send Mrs. Moody to Europe, they argue, why shouldn't she be nice enough to come back and take part in the blue ribbon American event?

If the officials in question have their way, the association, in the future, will send Mrs. Moody to Europe only on the provision that she get back in time to join the field at Forest Hills.

And if you had seen the gallery that watched the opening day of the 45th annual tournament yesterday, you would understand why Mrs. Moody's presence is so earnestly desired. When Miss Marjorie Leeming of Vancouver, and Miss Anne Page of Pennsylvania, took the center court for the opening match, you could have placed all the customers in the rumble seat of a kiddie car and still have plenty of room for two fair sized suitcases.

Players Talk To Selves

By 4:30 in the afternoon the crowd had swelled to the magnificent number of 137. We say 137 because we counted them. And that included the ushers. Why, the stadium, which was built for fourteen or fifteen thousand, was so deserted the players had to talk to themselves to keep from getting lonesome.

Now, with Mrs. Moody in the field, there would have been a couple of thousand customers, at least. Maybe more. For the Californian is the champion, and how the boys and girls of this and all other sections of the United States go for the champion. The fact that Mrs. Moody would breeze through the tournament, slaughtering 'em right and left without the loss of a set, would make no difference. They'd miss Joan Ridley of Great Britain and Miss Sarah Palfrey of Boston, fight to a 15-17, 11-9 decision.

In short they'd rather see a name than a game.

BELL, BEHIND, WINS FROM ARNO FINSTER

Rallying after the loss of a set, City Champion Randolph Bell came from behind to defeat Arno Finster, 7-9, 6-2, 6-3, in yesterday's feature match of the Santa Ana city tennis tournament, now rapidly drawing to a close at Frances Ward Junior High school.

ROAMING CAMERAMAN CATCHES SPORT PICTURES HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE

Georgia Coleman, who won the springboard diving event in the Olympic games for the United States, is pictured as she executes a graceful back dive. It's a good trick if you can do it.

Starting out as a sensational major league scandal, the report that Guy Bush, above, star Chicago Cubs pitcher, and other members of the team were gambling heavily on the ponies, seems to have fallen flat as just another wild rumor. Bush pitched and won a game for the Cubs the day the charge broke. His manager, Charley Grimm, declared Bush was "okay." And Judge Landis, baseball commissioner, denied he was digging up anything on the Cubs.

When the Olympic 200-meter finals was won by Eddie Tolan, it was charged by Ralph Metcalfe that the starting mark assigned to him was at least four feet off key. This remarkable picture of the start of the much-discussed race indicates that Metcalfe's claim was justified, though the judges did nothing about it. The arrow points to the spot in lane 2 where Metcalfe's starting mark should have been. Tolan, in lane 1 (on the inside) is shown by the camera to have a decided advantage over Metcalfe, according to the space between the other contestants.

An other Wee Willie Sherdel has come to the major leagues in the person of "Tiny Tony" Frietas, little but mighty southpaw brought from Sacramento, in the Pacific Coast league, to the Athletics.

For years scouts sent to look at Frietas reported he was too short in stature to make the major league grade. But Tony has won something like 7 in a row for the A's. Frietas was obtained by the A's for a bundle of cash and Jimmy De Shong, rookie pitcher.

Last August Tony happened to be in jail when big league scouts went to look him over. He was released just long enough to pitch a game against the Missions, which he won, 5 to 3. Then he went back to his cell to finish out a five-day sentence for speeding.

TRIPLETT WILL BE STARTER OF RACES AT BOWL

Two types of "roaring road" will be represented at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl Saturday night when knights of the throttle whirl around the new track in a grand premiere of motorbike racing, it was learned today.

As well as such states of the hand, the auto racers who signified their intention of being on hand are Ernie Triplett, Pacific Coast champion, and Sam Palmer, Denver driver who has become one of the leading Ascot acts.

Triplett notified officials that he will wave the flag starting the first race on the program. Termed "Blond Terror" of the auto sport, Triplett is an ardent motorbike racing fan. He never misses a race at White Sox park in Los Angeles.

He reminisced with friends over the days of "Eckersall, President Hopper of University of Chicago, and others. It was the day of days for him for he had been busy with affairs of the American Olympic track and field executive committee of which he was a member.

He is remaining here about a week to fulfill a contract with Fox Films to take part in a farcical college comedy. He says he doesn't know what his part is, but that there is a football coach in it and he may "be it."

Otherwise, this grizzled gray-haired veteran would rather be back in Chicago, playing tennis with friends. Besides, he wants to be back to survey the prospects of next season's University of Chicago football team, which at present are "very favorable."

MAX, MICKEY CLASH IN GOTHAM SEPT. 19

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(UP)—Max Schmeling of Germany and Mickey Walker of Rumson, N. J., have agreed to sign Thursday for a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden's new Long Island bowl, September 19, according to Jimmy Johnston, director of boxing at the Garden. It will be Schmeling's first fight since he lost the heavyweight title to Jack Sharkey in June.

FEATURE SPEED ON DELHI MAT CARD THURSDAY

Six of the fastest and most scientific light-heavyweight wrestlers now campaigning on the Pacific Coast, make their bow to Santa Ana wrestling fans Thursday night at Delhi when Promoter Elmer Willson stages his first bi-monthly program.

The feature—a three-fall, two hour limit battle—brings together Steve Strilich, known hereabouts as the "Terrible Swede," and "Smiling George" Malone, Irish light-heavyweight champion.

For the past few days Willson has been trying to get the state athletic commission to sanction the bout as for the championship of California and although the commission is reluctant to okay a match as for the title, without first conducting a tourney, there is a possibility of the winner being acclaimed the king.

Mustapha Pasha, the Turk grappler who meets "Briek" Mayne in the three-fall semi-final is destined to become one of the greatest cards in this sector, smart wrestling followers believe. Pasha has been headlining San Francisco cards.

Dr. P. A. Mullikan and Johnny Clancy hook up in the first three-fall bout while Bert Collina, former Mexican middleweight boxing idol, meets Marshall Aguirre in a one-fall opener.

Collina is making his first start in any ring as a professional wrestler and the outcome of his bout with Aguirre will be watched with keen interest by both fans and wrestling critics throughout this section.

PHIPPS' HOME RUN WINS FOR PEPPERS

Garden Grove clinched a tie for first place in the Orange County tennis league's second half by beating Olive, 6-5, in 13 innings at Garden Grove last night. Phipps homer, scoring Gedney ahead of him, won the game.

Irvine nosed out Dohney Park, 3-2.

Olympics To Show Profit Says Farmer

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16. —(UP)—Directors of the 10th Olympic Committee were to meet today to check the financial results of the international games which closed here Sunday.

The contests, which drew the biggest crowds in Olympic history, paid for themselves and netted a profit, Zack Farmer, secretary of the organization committee, indicated.

"You may safely say the budget balances," he said. Unofficially it was estimated that more than 550,000 persons saw the events in the stadium; that 100,000 witnessed the swimming events; and that more than 250,000 went to the rowing races at Long Beach.

INVITE ABROAD SIX AMERICAN OLYMPIC ACES

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—(UP)—Ralph Hill, Oregon's great distance runner, with five other great American track athletes have been invited to participate in a series of four meets in Germany, Austria and Hungary this fall, according to Daniel J. Ferris, New York, secretary of the Athletic Union of America, who was visiting here today.

Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette and Eddie Tolan of Michigan, sprinters, Percy Beard, hurdler, Bill Carr of Pennsylvania and Ben Eastman of Stanford, quarter-milers, are the other five members of the sextette who have been invited to participate in the exhibition meets, Ferris said.

Eastman and Carr have not as yet given their answers, Ferris said, but the others will sail from New York September 10.

SEALS SPURT, MAKE BID FOR TOP PLACE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—(UP)—Curt Davis, Bill Henderson, Jimmy Zinn and young Leo Stinger, the "flippers" for the San Francisco Seals, are ready to demonstrate their wares to the Hollywood Stars here tonight and perhaps to send their team into what has been a three-cornered battle for the league leadership.

The Seals drubbed Portland last week, winning five games out of seven, and are now behind three and one-half games behind the first place Ducks. They are two and one-half games behind the second place Stars, and one game behind the third place Los Angeles Angels.

Los Angeles, which opened a drive on the Stars and Beavers in the pennant race a couple of weeks back, faces the cellar champion Missions at San Francisco, while Portland takes on Seattle at Portland.

The "Cats" spotted young Seacord to a five-run lead in the first three rounds. Montgomery's single, Conrad's triple and Sullivan's single yielded two in the first frame. Singles by Montgomery and Conrad, Middlebrook's double and an error at second base by Hall produced three more in the third. After these unsteady innings, Hitt settled down, hurled well.

The J. C. Penneys finished in the four-way tie for second place by beating the Holy Name society, 4-2, in a curtain-raiser. Al Bushman fanned 13 but was the victim of bunched hits in the fifth and sixth.

AMATEUR SPORTS CLEANER NOW THAN IN 1892, SAYS STAGG, 70 YEARS OLD TODAY

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 16.—(UP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, University of Chicago's "grand old man of football," today busily looked back on his 70 years of a "useful and happy" lifetime.

Tired, this stocky, white-haired man who has spent his entire lifetime in a cause, went about his business as hundreds of the thousands of his "boys" and friends, called on him to congratulate him on his birthday.

Stagg's tanned, grizzled face broke into smiles when many of his "boys" now gray haired and middle aged men, called to reminiscence with him. There are so many of them that he sometimes is embarrassed at not remembering their names.

The veteran athletic mentor, still enthusiastic and interested in sports despite his 70 years, hopes to be able to live to see still further progress of amateur sports, his hobby.

For 40 years he has coached football all at the University of Chicago where he went upon his graduation from Yale. For 32 years he coached track and field and for 20 years baseball. For a man who entered athletics to raise it beyond the unsavory depths he might be described as having "grown up" with American sports.

"I believe amateur sports today are far better and freer of the professional taint than they were in 1892 when I first began my career," Stagg said. "I have seen thousands of thousands of boys enter and prosper from effects of this exercise."

"Amateur sports will do more for this country," he continued, "than many other factors. I hold no brief for professional sports. If we want to witness development of young men we will have to watch amateur sports."

STARS FAVORED TO WIN SEVEN GAME PLAYOFF

After 90 days of preliminary fencing, Santa Ana and Anaheim buckle down tonight to the grim task of determining which has the champion baseball club of the National Night league.

Playing a best four-out-of-seven series, the Stars of Santa Ana, defending titleholders, have been installed slight favorites for no particular reason except their well established ability to play their best ball in the crises.

Official lineups, posted today by Manager George Lackaye of Santa Ana and Vic Ruedy of Anaheim, disclosed nothing unexpected.

Ruedy picked Elwyn ("Fuzzy") Errington as his pitcher and Lackaye said Ira DeBusk, the "platinum blond" would work for the Stars.

The catchers will be "Red" Lemmon for Santa Ana, and "Eeny" Wilcox for Anaheim.

Merrill to Bat Fifth

"Rosy" Merrill will be in right field for Santa Ana. Max Moody is the only uncertain position on either club. Incidentally, Lackaye held Merrill to fifth place in the batting order, replacing Rod Ball, a hard who has been in a slump and who has never been much of a stickler against Errington's change-of-pace hurling anyhow.

Game-time, of course, will be 8 o'clock, and Santa Ana officials reiterated an oft-repeated announcement that no seats here will be reserved.

At a late hour nobody knew who would do the umpiring. George Peterkin, league president, keeping the assignments a dark secret.

The players won't know the guessers until game-time.

On the basis of seasonal figures, the clubs appear evenly matched. There is little to choose between them in pitching, hitting, fielding or baserunning, and even if there appeared to be a distinct edge either way it wouldn't mean much. Anything can happen when Santa Ana and Anaheim get together as was aptly proven at this time last summer when Santa Ana, with an admittedly inferior team in almost every respect, beat the strongest talent Anaheim had ever mustered.

Some critics thought early in the year that Santa Ana had assembled a club as good as the 1931 Anaheim machine, and it conducted itself that way through the first half of the race, but when it broke down midway through the second round and lost four straight starts the same observers shook their heads and confessed that they had been a little quick on the trigger.

In those four games, Santa Ana revealed itself as a team subject to all the whims, slumps and misfortunes of an ordinary club.

As was the case in 1931, however, Santa Ana comes up to the "little world series" with its slump behind while Anaheim, away poorly, has played almost unbelievable baseball since the first quarter. If there is anything to diamond tradition, Santa Ana is in a better psychological situation.

Analytically, Santa Ana may have a slight edge, but not much. "Fuzzy" Errington will have to bear the brunt of the mound work for Anaheim, and he does not compare with "Chico" Sabella, who did most of the slinging for the high-powered Valencias of '31 Errington is invincible at times but inclined to nervousness with covering the California state tax bill of the Southern California Edison company, limited, for the first half of the 1932-33 tax year were paid to State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, yesterday, according to District Manager Rodney Bacon.

Total tax paid the state for the current year amounts to $3,009,126.80 representing seven and one-half per cent of the gross revenues. The Edison company is one of the largest tax payers in the state being included within the first 10, and its annual payments to the state constitute one of California's largest single tax revenue sources, it is reported.

The taxes paid to the state of California represent only a part of the total taxes paid by the company. In addition to the seven and one-half per cent state tax of $3,009,126.80 more than $1,400,000 will be paid this year by the company in federal government taxes, various city and county taxes and in state gasoline taxes. Total company taxes chargeable to operations for the current year will be in excess of $4,400,000 which is more than 11 per cent of the company's gross revenue for the period, according to W. C. Mullendore, executive vice president.

Don Phipps, wife and Mrs. Phipps' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Guinn, The Phipps are of Copinger Mills, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Guinn are of Bartlesville, Okla. The party moved here and during their stay in the U. E. Phipps home motored to Hollywood and Beverly Hills and to various beaches. Bob Phipps accompanied the cousins on these trips.

A reunion of relatives was held Friday evening in Long Beach at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pawsan, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Phipps.

Don Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. Guinn and Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Phipps, Bob Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Bader, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson, Stephen Harris, Miss Helen Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Pawsan and son and daughter, Junior and Patty Pawsan, of the party.

Ryver Allen and Charles Allen attended the final boat races at Long Beach Saturday.

NEW WASHINGTON QUARTER MAKING APPEARANCE IN CIRCULATION IN SANTA ANA

The first of the new silver quarter dollars are making their appearance in Santa Ana and are in demand at banks by persons anxious to have one of the new coins, which carry the likeness of George Washington in his debut on the nation's pocket change.

Although a veteran of postage stamp albums for many years, there has never been a regular coin struck bearing the image of the father of his country. Abraham Lincoln has appeared on the penny for many years.

The government's three mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver struck the quarters from new dies last month. In order to avoid ill feeling, the federal reserve banks distributed them to banks in all parts of the country simultaneously.

Bankers, who like new bills and coins as well as people less familiar with money, are expected to ask for all new quarters when they came out, but the director of the mint will force them to use up their old ones first.

Coinage Facts
The new quarter, not issued as a commemorative piece, recalls numerous facts about small change which are frequently overlooked.

Few know that "E Pluribus Unum," "United States of America," "In God We Trust" and "Liberty" appear on all silver coins because the law requires it. The same is true of the eagle's figure.

Careful search will reveal that many coins bear a small letter "S" or "D" somewhere on their faces. They indicate the coin was struck at the San Francisco or Denver mints. Those struck at Philadelphia, the largest mint in the country, bear no distinguishing initial.

A few old coins may be found with an "O" or a "C.C." They were struck either at the old New Orleans or Carson City, Nev., mints, now abandoned.

Designers' Initials
Designers of coins usually are permitted to put their initials on them inconspicuously.

The George Washington quarter will have an "F" on it for John Flannagan, its designer. Flannagan also designed the magnificent bronze clock which adorns the reading room of the library of congress and the Verdun Medal presented to France.

The silver dollar also has an "F", but in that case it stands for the designer Francis. The current quarter dollar has an "M" for its designer Herman Macnell. The half dollar has a "W" for Adolph Weinman.

It takes a magnifying glass to bring out the "F" of James E. Fraser who designed the Buffalo nickel.

REPORTS GIVEN AS UNEMPLOYED MEET

BREA, Aug. 16.—At the regular meeting of the Unemployed association of the Brea-Olinda High School district last night, E. F. Bush, chairman, presiding, needed changes were made in the constitution.

It was reported that before the close of the week members expect to be planting potatoes on the ground loaned by the Union Oil company.

The truck driver reported transportation to town by him of 354 sacks of potatoes weighing over 16 tons, 30 boxes of peaches and 128 boxes of pears.

Mrs. Price, in charge of the clothing department, reported $76 in clothing and shoes. Donations received amounting to $103.55 in cash were reported.

A. E. Lynes and Joe Davis, members of the board of directors, resigned. Mr. Davis has what he thinks will be permanent employment; another prospective director, Mr. Wolfe, was unable to serve for the same reason. George Brown and Roger Perdue were elected to fill vacancies on the board.

Plans were made for a dance in Craig hall Friday evening. Money, fruits or vegetables will be accepted to the amount of 25 cents.

COSTA MESA
COSTA MESA, Aug. 16.—Mrs. E. M. Holmes, of Jamestown, Colo., and James Sweeney, her grandson, of Denver, Colo., are visiting J. M. Gorman and his sister, Hattie Williams, at their home, corner of Tustin avenue at Twenty-first street. On Sunday, the group was visited by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Soles, of Ventura, who are grandchildren of Mrs. Holmes, and her grand-daughter, Miss Mary Roberts; Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Fuller, Richard, a son of the H. R. Fuller's, and Otis Fine, all of Los Angeles; Miss Edith Grebe, Costa Mesa; Mrs. P. C. Lillard, Miss Helen and Robert Fuller and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Berry, of Glendale, and Mrs. Berry's son, Mel Keppel, of Celina, Ohio, were week end guests in the Lloyd Willcutt home. Mrs. Berry is Mrs. Willcutt's aunt.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fuller, of Fairview avenue, who entertained with a dinner party at 1 o'clock Sunday. The group spent the afternoon at the beach. Those included were Mrs. Fuller's brother and sister-in-law and children, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lillard, Mary Evelyn, Barbara and Mark Jr., Mrs. Lillard's mother, Mrs. Daley, and her grand-daughter, Miss Mary Roberts; Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Fuller, Richard, a son of the H. R. Fuller's, and Otis Fine, all of Los Angeles; Miss Edith Grebe, Costa Mesa; Mrs. P. C. Lillard, Miss Helen and Robert Fuller and the hosts.

BOARD RETAINS $1 TAX RATE IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Aug. 16.—The budget for the city of Placentia for the coming year is to be kept beneath $8805, according to figures for allowances shown in passing on the report of the committee last night. This will require retaining the tax rate at $1 on the $100 valuation.

Councilmen, all of whom were present, agreed not to lower the tax rate, when operating as they are on a small margin, would be unwise, especially considering the possible demand for welfare and relief funds that may arise. An ordinance fixing the rate was read.

In face of the resignation of City Judge Thomas E. Pickrell, Mrs. Nellie Cline, city clerk and assessor, filed an application for the position. No action was taken on either the resignation or application. It is thought appointment will be made at the next session.

City Engineer George Bates suggested that councilmen ask that owners of the Johnston-Wickett subdivision be asked to place a properly guarded street, an extension of Melrose avenue, through their property, cornering on Chapman and Bradford avenues, and open an east-west street to Bradford avenue. No action was taken.

Because it was thought to reopen the water question, with voters registering at the polls their desire for a municipally owned system, would be unwise at the present time, councilmen took no action on a request of M. D. Cline asking for circulation of a petition calling for such an election.

Economy Suggestions
The economy act will fall with a heavy thud on many state agencies, if the 1933 legislature follows the advice of Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, and lops off $19,000,000 worth of "useless" functions.

Here are some of the services known to be tentatively slated to go: State bureau of commerce; division of markets under the state department of agriculture; California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo; California Nautical school; State Narcotics hospital at Spadra; Napa state farm, and the state tuberculosis subsidy.

Governor Ralph is again the target of critics. Now he's blamed for putting Jay L. Henry, Sacramento attorney, in the race against Senator J. M. Inman for the state senate. Inman, in radio speeches, charged that Ralph was getting revenge because Inman opposed the governor's demand for a $75,000 airplane at the last legislature, the Sharkey bill and state water program. "Governor Ralph doesn't like me, personally and politically, and the feeling is mutual," Inman declared.

The governor was also charged with lining up forces to elect President Judge Hugh L. Preston to the third district court of appeal. Preston's chief opponent is Superior Judge John F. Pullen of Sacramento.

Politically Speaking

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 16.—(UP)—Candidates for public office at the state primary have entered the home stretch.

From now until election day, August 29, it will be a mad scramble. The battle for party nominations to the United States Senate continues to hold the limelight.

Cheered by the registration figures showing the Democratic party to have a million votes in California, William Gibbs Meadood and Justus Wardell are speeding up their campaigns. Both spoke in Sacramento and San Francisco during the week.

Pity the poor Los Angeles voter when he goes to the polls on election day. In that county there are 486 candidates for nomination to 60 offices. Of course, each voter gets a ballot for only his own party and district. But no Los Angeles ballot will have fewer than 200 names on it. How can any person vote intelligently on that many candidates?

Economy Suggestions
The economy act will fall with a heavy thud on many state agencies, if the 1933 legislature follows the advice of Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, and lops off $19,000,000 worth of "useless" functions.

Here are some of the services known to be tentatively slated to go: State bureau of commerce; division of markets under the state department of agriculture; California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo; California Nautical school; State Narcotics hospital at Spadra; Napa state farm, and the state tuberculosis subsidy.

Governor Ralph is again the target of critics. Now he's blamed for putting Jay L. Henry, Sacramento attorney, in the race against Senator J. M. Inman for the state senate. Inman, in radio speeches, charged that Ralph was getting revenge because Inman opposed the governor's demand for a $75,000 airplane at the last legislature, the Sharkey bill and state water program. "Governor Ralph doesn't like me, personally and politically, and the feeling is mutual," Inman declared.

The governor was also charged with lining up forces to elect President Judge Hugh L. Preston to the third district court of appeal. Preston's chief opponent is Superior Judge John F. Pullen of Sacramento.

Standard Oil Pays $25,000 For Laguna Beach Land.

IMPROVEMENTS ON SITE WILL TOTAL $10,000

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 16.—Marking the biggest deal in Laguna Beach real estate in several years, the Standard Oil company has paid $25,000 cash for 70 feet of Coast boulevard property in the downtown section. The property involved is 45 feet, extending south from the intersection of Broadway on the ocean side of the boulevard, owned by former Judge L. V. Murphy, and 25 feet adjoining that to the south, which was owned by Louis E. Schwartzmann, of Los Angeles. The price paid averages $350 per front foot. The deal, which was closed yesterday, was made through the offices of Peterson and Planchon, local realtors. It had been in escrow for six months.

Immediate improvements of the property has been announced at an estimated cost of $10,000. It is understood that the Standard Oil company plans to build a super-service station second to none in Southern California. The property faces both on the highway and the board walk. The case of Riley's Waffle shop expires September 15. Howard Planchon says he understands the company has offered to build a new shop on the board walk side, with an entrance walk from Coast boulevard, but is reserving the entire frontage on the highway for the station. There will be room for batteries and tires and a row of the latest gasoline pumps in an artistic setting. There will be an elevator for oiling jobs and a new model wash rack.

In addition to the purchase price and the improvements, the company must pay about $7000 for assessments on the Broadway and Coast boulevard paving jobs and be through storm drain. This will make the total investment more than $40,000.

NEW SCHOOL UNITS PLANNED BY BOARD

PLACENTIA, Aug. 16.—Placentia school board voted to establish a new unit of seventh and eighth grade in the Americanization school building on West Santa Fe avenue and agreed on the possibility of establishing another upper grade unit at the Richfield school. At the meeting at the Bradford avenue school last night.

Action followed the report of LeRoy Lyon, president of the board, that the Fullerton Union High school trustees had granted them the use of the building for day time during the school year.

Glenn Riddleberger, superintendent of the school, was asked to work out a plan wherein the children of the Richfield district may also have a seventh and eighth grade unit there. A chief item in the change of program is one of economy in transportation.

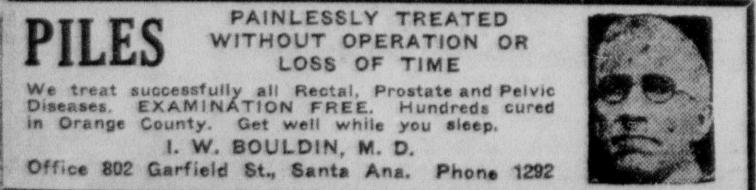

Warren Bradford and Earl Mahls were appointed a committee to interview C. C. Chapman, owner of the land where the Americanization school is located, to get permission to use enough land for all grounds. Bradford said he is interested enough in the plan that he will donate pipes for the back stoops for the playgrounds.

Driver Ice Truck Saves Boy's Life

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 16.—Otis (Curly) Davey, employed by Charles H. Jester, president of the Community club, saved the life of Donald Bush, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Bush, of Bishop, Calif., yesterday afternoon, by a remarkable manipulation of a heavy ice truck. The boy was struck a light glancing blow and received a few minor cuts and bruises that were dressed by Dr. V. P. Carroll.

The Bushes, who have been staying in Long Beach for a month, came to this city yesterday to attend the Festival of Arts, accompanied by a party of friends. One of these friends was walking with little Donald on Coast boulevard, 100 yards south of Laguna avenue. Mrs. Bush passed in a car. The boy saw her and rushed into the street despite the protest of the friend. Davey was driving north with the heavy ice truck and the lad stood directly in his path, a very short distance away. The driver jammed on his brakes and turned the truck so that it skidded sideways for about 15 feet, and had almost come to a stop when it struck Donald. Davey's task was made more difficult because a car was approaching in the opposite direction and if he went much beyond the center line of the street he was in danger of another collision. The screeching of the brakes and the yells of Donald attracted a crowd. He was carried to the office of Dr. Carroll, near by, where it was learned the boy had escaped serious injury.

HONOR PARENTS AT PLACENTIA SOCIAL AFFAIR

PLACENTIA, Aug. 16.—In completing a three weeks vacation trip, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Redfern were surprised Sunday on their return home to find their three children, Miss Phyllis and Miss Doris, and Wendell, had prepared a double party for them at their home on North Bradford avenue.

The occasion was the 25th wedding anniversary and the double surprise consisted of a luncheon party, where a large group of relatives attended, and an evening supper event.

At the dinner Sunday, guests were Mrs. Alice Kryder, Mrs. Redfern's mother, and B. O. Kryder, brother, with Mrs. Kryder and their two children, Harold and Paul, of Fullerton; Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Mrs. Redfern's sister, and her daughter, Ardath, of Amarillo, Tex.; house guests at the Redfern home; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kryder and children, Mildred, Muriel and Raymond, of La Verne, a brother and his family, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kryder and son, Wallace, of Claremont, another brother and his family, and Russel Kent of Placentia.

At the evening affair were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Marsden, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Arnold and Miss Emma Kast, Fullerton, and the Rev. Charles A. Kent, former pastor of the Fullerton Methodist church, and Mrs. Kent.

DAILY BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSING AT SHOWER IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 16.—In bringing the Daily Vacation Bible school of Christ Church-by-the-Sea to a close, the directors and teachers who had charge of the school arranged a closing day program which was given in the Balboa chapel Sunday evening at the regular worship hour, both the Newport Beach and the Balboa branches of the church participating.

The Rev. Lawson Watkins, now of Astin, formerly pastor of the branch church, was the main speaker at the Sunday evening program, using as the theme of his talk the ultimate purpose and aims of the school course, pursued by the faculty with the children. During the school term, which lasted for four weeks, the Rev. Mr. Watkins had charge of the class in Bible study.

The primary department gave the opening prayer at the evening services and Miss Hazel Cubbon, who had charge of the department in school, gave a talk at this meeting. David Cherry, local school teacher, and instructor in ethics to the junior department of the Bible school, also gave a talk. Jimmy Holt read the platform that had been adopted by the juniors. Others assisting in the work were Mrs. Blanche Siegel and Miss Dorothy Ensign. The Rev. Russell Stroup, pastor of the local church, gave a short talk near the close of the meeting.

The Bible school had a total enrollment of 108. Instruction was given in religion, supervised recreation and handiwork.

CRAIL SLATED FOR TALK IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Aug. 16.—Joe Crail, congressman from the tenth district, and candidate for United States senate, is to speak at Fullerton park at 6 p. m. Wednesday, according to announcement of John Gregory, president of Fullerton Izaak Walton League.

Crail will be accompanied by his wife and by Ex-Governor Stephens and will speak for about 20 minutes. He is coming in answer to an invitation of the league, one which he was unable to fill Wednesday of last week, when 17 candidates spoke at the regular meeting.

All who desire to may bring a basket lunch and have supper during the talk. Everybody is invited to attend.

Yorba Lindans To Present Play On Thursday Evening

YORBA LINDA, Aug. 16.—Under direction of Miss Theresa Roes the high school intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Friends church is giving a play Thursday night entitled "How Much Owest Thou the Lord?"

The play will open at 8 o'clock at social hall of the church. No admission will be charged. A silver offering will be taken to send a delegate to Camp Arrowhead August 27 to September 3 to the Friends Christian Endeavor camp.

Riders Injured At Club Races

PLACENTIA, Aug. 16.—Frank Anderson, of Riverside, riding in the races of the El Rodeo Riding club Sunday, sustained a fractured hip as a result of being thrown from his horse in a race. His substitute, Fuller Sprouh, was hurt, also, when he fainted and fell from his horse.

Horse racing and rodeo events were held at the arena. Many famous horses of Southern California stables were entered.

Jack Waltz, Joe Wagner and John Wagner were in charge of events.

The next event will be a presentation of 80 head of riding and racing stock at a Reed Brothers rodeo August 27-28. For the coming weeks, horsemen to take part in a riders' Olympic at Los Angeles September 5 will use the arena of the club for practice.

Program Planned By Church Group

YORBA LINDA, Aug. 16.—The Methodist Foreign Missionary society is to hold the regular meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. William Warren at 2 p. m. During the afternoon on a special program will be given honoring the Light Bearers.

HONOR BRIDE AT SHOWER IN HOME AT MESA

COSTA MESA, Aug. 16.—The home of H. Miner on Victoria street was the scene of a lovely affair recently, when the Misses Ruth Miner and Faye Griffen entertained a group of girls, honoring Mrs. Harold Knighten (nee Miss Virginia Clark) with a linen shower. Miss Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, of Balboa street, and Harold Knighten, son of Mrs. Ethel Clark, of Clark's court were married in Yuma, Ariz., August 4. They will make their home here.

The Miner home was beautifully decorated. All flowers, table decorations, favors and refreshments were in colors of pink and green. An unusual table centerpiece, made of crepe paper, represented an open umbrella, and from the ceiling hung many daintily wrapped gifts. Later these dropped into the umbrella, and were presented to the honoree. "Spook" and "ootie" were played.

Refreshments included shrimp and potato salad, sandwiches, root beer, ice cream and cake.

Those present were Mrs. Harold Knighten, honoree; Alene Clark, Helen Fuller, Dixie Chapman, Ann Pearce, Jean King, Maureen Coe, Jane Flinn, and the hostesses.

Flower Show Of Yorba Linda Club Held October 7

YORBA LINDA, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Edwin Speckman and Mrs. Willets Van Cleave, chairman and a member of the garden section of Yorba Linda Woman's club, met with Mrs. A. M. Christensen, chairman of garden section of Round Table, recently and set October 7 as the date for the fall flower show, where a display of sinlins will be featured. Other flowers are to be entered in the exhibit, also.

DOCTOR NEEDED AS LIQUOR EXPLODES

PLACENTIA, Aug. 16.—The Placentia "opening party," where liquors, three months accumulated evidence of the city court were poured out, became noisier and wilder as time went on last night until it was necessary to not only summon the aid of the police force, but of a doctor.

The injured was City Judge Thomas E. Pickrell. He had two arteries in his left hand cut by a particularly active bottle of beer that broke as he uncapped it to pour it down the sink, and left his hand seriously injured. He was treated by a local physician after Assistant Police officer Horace Lucy helped him to the doctor's office.

The pouring party resulted in opening and pouring out six bottles of whiskey and four dozen bottles of beer.

SUCCESS SEEN FOR NEWPORT OYSTER BEDS

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 16.—Experts of Stanford university and the State Fish and Game commission have been investigating Newport Bay for some time, in cooperation with capitalists and others on a commercial scale in the bay, and it was learned today that so far their investigations indicate that the prospects for oyster industry of considerable proportions are bright.

Robert Hoffman, of Monterey, with many years experience in the cultivation and marketing of oysters; Carl Brohme, the Smith brothers, Frank and W. S. Smith Jr., local merchants and boatmen, are the leaders in the enterprise. With the tug Delta they have been investigating for several weeks.

Fish men say that there are already oyster beds in Newport bay, although no effort has been made to cultivate or market them. It is proposed to plant them in places where they would not interfere with boat traffic, if the investigations now being made turn out as well as already indicated.

It is reported that Hoffman and his associates plan to plant the Mexican and eastern varieties of oysters in Newport bay, as they are larger than the native kind.

George Washington was made an honorary citizen of France in 1793.

Judge Fines Neighbor On Drunk Count

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 16.—City Judge Montrose Lestrangle was placed in the position yesterday of sitting in judgment on his next door neighbor. And although the complaint of intoxication and disturbing the peace was signed by Officer H. D. Allanson, it was Dr. Lestrangle who caused the arrest of Rex B. Sawyer, 63, who said he is a traffic manager, with offices in the Transportation building, Los Angeles. He paid a fine of $100.

Dr. Lestrangle and Sawyer occupy adjoining homes on Viejo street, McKnight's addition. According to the judge, neighbors complained on two previous occasions that the noise from the Sawyer place had kept them awake into the wee sma' hours of the morning. With neighborly fortitude, Dr. Lestrangle issued a friendly warning. At 4 o'clock yesterday morning Dr. Lestrangle and his family were awake when neighbors again complained of unearthly yells and screams from the yard of the Sawyer place. He called Officer Allanson, who said Sawyer was lying on the ground in such a condition that it required the efforts of two husky men to load him into the patrol wagon. Later in the day he pleaded guilty and wrote out a check for the $100 fine which his neighbor imposed.

"As a neighbor," said Dr. Lestrangle later, "I tried to be neighborly and patient; as a judge it was my duty to teach a lesson in such a case."

LYON BACKED BY PLACENTIA STRATEGY BODY

PLACENTIA, Aug. 16.—Members of the Placentia board of strategy, Dr. E. H. Brunemeier, president, voted to indorse the recommendations of the county, state and national boards, and to recommend Le Roy Lyon as candidate from this district, at the meeting of the Church of the Nazarene yesterday.

The recommendation as to supervisory candidate was taken informally since the county board had made no recommendations. Members of the board made it plain that the choice for Mr. Lyon came because he fills requirements as a dry candidate and is from the district.

Horsemen To Rule Tomorrow At Laguna Art Festival

ARTISTS HOLD OPEN HOUSE AT STUDIOS TODAY

"Horses, Horses, Horses." That will be the song of the Laguna Beach Festival of Arts tomorrow afternoon. About 65 riders from all parts of Orange county will participate in a parade and games as one of the features of the week. The parade will start at 2 p.m. Members of the El Rodeo club, using silver-mounted saddles and bridles that have been handed down from the days of the Dons and costumed as were the men of the old Spanish families in this county will come to Laguna Beach with their favorite mounts to lend atmosphere to the parade and show. Riders from the beach city will appear in all sorts of gay costumes for the affair.

Leading the parade will be Josie Derkum Rice, who will appear in the costume she wore 15 years ago when she posed for Louis Betts' famous painting, now in the permanent collection of the Chicago Art Institute, "Girl of the Golden West."

Parade Route The horsemen will form at Lee Eckhardt's riding academy at Laguna canyon, just beyond the city limits. The line of march will be over Broadway to Cliff drive to Cypress drive to Aster street to Coast boulevard to Broadway and back to the academy. Immediately after the parade the horsemen and horsewomen will proceed to a new field in Laguna canyon, just beyond the Green Goose ranch, where they will participate in a program of 28 games. There will be races for ponies, with children as jockeys; races for cowboys, races for cowgirls; broom polo, in-and-out, musical chairs, sack races and other sports aside from the regular rodeo stunts, that occupy the time of the cowboy during the roundup. Prizes will be offered for each event.

The Festival of Arts is swinging into its fourth day. The feature this afternoon was a personally conducted tour of the artists' studios for visitors. Many of the noted painters kept open house and appeared in smocks to receive the guests.

"Robin Hood," produced by Wayne Moore, played to its second big house last night in Fairview. Although a revival, it proved as popular as the first production several years ago. Moore now will devote his attention to assisting Ida Harris in producing the sea pageant to be staged Friday and Saturday evenings on the beach at the foot of Pearl street, near the wreck of what once was a Japanese narcotic runner and which was washed ashore during a heavy blow last spring. About 50 dancers will appear under the direction of Mrs. Maud Putnam. The pageant will be called "Davy Jones' Locker."

Market Attracts Much interest is being manifested in the Marche Rux Croutes (Market of the Crusts), where painters of note and those just arriving are exhibiting canvases for sale in the open. The picture is in a parking lot at Forest avenue and Coast boulevard and is very picturesque. In the center is a rough platform on which a small piano has been placed. Here entertainment is given in all forms. Also there is a puppet show in progress.

According to John Hinchman, general manager of the festival, and himself a painter of much note, some marvelous bargains have been offered to the public by the market. Many of them are by painters who have won a name in the art world but who have been forced through the depression to sell for what they can.

"This market is really in keeping with the famous market of Paris and the one established in Washington Square, New York, last winter," said Hinchman.

REPORT SHOWS COSTS OF BEAN PRODUCTION UP

The fourth annual report on the lima bean cost of production study made in Orange county and compiled by the agricultural extension service of the University of California, was released today by Assistant Farm Advisor Eric E. Eastman, showing an average of $111.45 per acre. Total income per acre averaged $74.84. The yield per acre averaged 2080 pounds.

The study embraces complete charts on records furnished by bean growers in the county and show that the cost of production of beans here has risen over the last few years. The four year average showed a net profit of $24.53 per acre.

The purpose of the study, which will be continued in 1932, is to furnish a reliable standard by which the individual grower may measure the efficiency and results of his production operations.

The report states that it would appear that drastically reduced production costs, combined with an increased yield per acre will be required for profitable production with the probable low market price for beans in 1932. A study of the means by which water costs may be reduced appears advisable, the report states.

The yearly average costs of preparing for planting have increased each year, as have the average total costs for all cultural operations. The high miscellaneous material cost shown for 1930 was claimed due to expenditure for cyanide for wire worm control. The reduction of material costs is principally attributable to the decreased cost of seed, sacks and twine, according to the report. Water cost continued to be above the four-year average, as did the total cash overhead costs.

FRIENDS ARRANGE FOR BELL SESSION

The Friends quarterly meeting will be held at Bell next Friday and Saturday for the churches of Southern California. On Friday night will occur the meeting of ministry and oversight. On Saturday the regular quarterly session will convene with the Rev. Shober Kimber, of Hollywood, giving the morning message. In the afternoon business will occupy the time.

BAND CONCERT WILL FEATURE GERMAN MUSIC

A large audience is expected to fill Birch park next Thursday night when the program of the Santa Ana Municipal band will feature German music. Director D. C. Clanton reports that there have been several requests for a program of German music and that these will be answered with the next program.

The concert will be opened by the march by H. L. Blankenburgh, "German Fidelity" expressing the patriotic spirit of the people. This splendid march will be followed by the overture, "Stradella" by Von Flotow. This overture appears by request on this program and is probably the composer's favorite work besides his light opera, "Martha."

Next on the program will be the appearance of the Bel Canto club of Santa Ana composed of employees of the Southern California Telephone company with E. M. Waycott as director and Helen Lutz acting as accompanist. The chorus will sing two numbers, "Sleepy Hollow Tune" and "Southern Moog" by Lily Strickland.

"The Hungarian Dances, No. 5" by J. Brahms will be the next band number. An unusual highlight of the evening's program will be the performance of the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony." The "Serenade in F" by A. E. Titi will be the next number played by the band, a love song written in romantically German style.

Harold Proctor, well-known in Santa Ana because of his previous appearances here, will be the soloist of the evening. Proctor, a resident of Glendale, is popular not only in Santa Ana but in Los Angeles as well where he has appeared many times as tenor soloist with the Chanters and the Ellis club. Proctor has chosen to sing that beautiful Wagnerian tenor aria, "Walter's Prize Song" from the opera, "Die Meistersinger von Nurnberg."

In answer to another request, C. M. von Weber's "Invitation a la Valse" will be played by the band. This number of waltz rhythms was almost the sole work winning immediate approval from the public at large during the lifetime of Von Weber.

The concert program on Thursday evening will be brought to a close by the march by C. Teike, "Old Comrades," a march again fired by German loyalty to the Fatherland.

This varied program of German music covers the highlights from the eighteenth century with Weber to the modern times with Flotow and others.

ARRANGE FUNERAL OF GEORGE CRONER

Funeral services for George B. Croner, 73, a resident of Fullerton for the past 32 years, who died Sunday night at 9 o'clock at his home at 145 West Amerige street, will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Mr. Croner was well known in the Fullerton district. He had been active as a building contractor since coming to Orange county in 1900. He was a member of the Christian church, the I. O. O. F. lodge of Fullerton and of the Anaheim Elks lodge.

Survivors are his wife, Harriet; a son, George P. Croner, Fullerton, and three brothers and a sister, James Croner and Mrs. Sylvester Martin, of California, Penn.; Otto Croner, Pittsburgh, Penn.; and J. W. Croner, Hollywood.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the McAulay and Suters Funeral directors. Services are to be held at the chapel, with the Rev. George Tinsley, pastor of the

STATE MERGER APPROVED BY B. & P. W. CLUB

When Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club sends its delegates to the state convention in the Yosemite on September 9 and 10, it will be with instructions to vote favorably on the question of a merger between the two state organizations, the California League and California Federation of Business and Professional Women, as a result of a vote taken at yesterday's meeting of the local group in Ketter's gold room.

Before the question was given to the members for their acceptance or rejection, the president, Mrs. Adelaide Cochran, outlined the proposed merger, pointing out its advantages which include affiliation with the national association. One direct result of the merger will be the re-districting of the state, so that the present three districts, Northern, Southern and Central, will become six, the Northern, Bay, Central, Coast, Los Angeles and Southern California, each functioning under its own officers, secondary only to the state organization.

Santa Ana club delegates to the state convention will be named later. Both the president, Mrs. Cochran, and Miss Martha Whitson, a state director, will be present and will have votes in the business meeting in addition to the two delegates to which the club is entitled by reason of the number of its members.

Next Monday's program was not announced but definite arrangements were made for a swimming party and dinner on Monday evening, August 29, at Lido clubhouse, Lido Isle.

Christian church, in charge. Interment will be at Loma Vista, with the I. O. O. F. lodge in charge.

FIRST WORK ON AQUEDUCT TO EMPLOY 20,000

Work is to be provided in the near future by activities in connection with construction of the Colorado river aqueduct for approximately 20,000 men, it was announced yesterday by officials of the Metropolitan Water district. Construction is to be started as soon as the bonds can be sold, according to W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the board of directors.

Plans and specifications are ready for immediate work as soon as the money is pledged and Whitsett estimates that including the families of the workers and tradespeople, close to 100,000 persons will be benefited. The 20,000 figure includes persons employed in production of material and supplies as well as those directly employed on the project.

The district is exerting every effort to get money for the beginning of work from the Reconstruction Finance corporation it is reported. Its directors believe there is reason for hope of favorable action on the application within a few weeks.

"Plans and specifications are ready," Whitsett declared. "A right-of-way across government lands has been granted by Congress. The California supreme court has declared the bonds valid. We hope and expect to be on our way by fall. However, application cannot be received now. Employment offices will be opened just as soon as the funds are in hand. At that time public announcement will be made."

SURVEY SHOWS BUSINESS HERE IS ON UPGRADE

Business conditions in Santa Ana are better and business shows an increase over last year, it was announced today by A. Cavalli, manager of the merchants division of the chamber of commerce on the completion of a survey.

The survey covered the first two weeks in August and shows a gain in certain lines of business and some stores report a slight increase over 1931. Several merchants, after checking their sales since August 1, stated that the volume of business done since July 15, a great surprise to them, Cavalli said.

This time of the year business is always quiet and the fact that the business level is higher now is taken as an optimistic sign, according to Cavalli.

One well-known merchant of Fourth street stated that there appears to be more confidence in the minds of the buying public and that one of the reasons was that people have a desire to buy now, at prices that probably will never again reach such low levels. The forecast for this fall is for higher prices, according to Cavalli.

Raw materials are climbing in price, manufacturers are beginning to turn up their fall merchandise and big stores in the East are feeling the advance now, he pointed out.

Local merchants have been placing heavy fall orders already, he said. Demand has caught up with supply, Cavalli declared.

Choir Members Preface Rehearsal With Gay Picnic Supper

When members of the First M. E. church choir met Saturday evening for their weekly rehearsal, it was made a special occasion for which the beautiful ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. David Toms on Orangewood avenue, was hospitably placed at the disposal of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Toms are cousins of Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, director of the choir, and it was a courtesy to her that the social meeting was held in such a delightful spot. Many of the choir members sought the ranch home in the afternoon hours to enjoy a plunge in the swimming pool. As evening drew near others arrived until the crowd numbered over 40. All were with baskets of picnic fare for the appetizing supper served.

For this feature a marquee was erected in the garden with tables spread amidst the flowers and trees. The social features of the affair were planned as a farewell to James H. Hughes who has resigned as assistant pastor of the church and will enter the university for study and preparation for entering the ministry. Mrs. Hughes will remain in Santa Ana as one of the teachers in the city schools.

In the absence of the president of the choral organization, Mrs. Irma Rutter, her duties were assumed by Miss Ethel Coffman, and the annual election of officers held immediately after supper and before the evening's rehearsals were under way.

Mrs. Fred Lazenby was named to the presidency, while her assistant officers will be Mrs. Warren Freeman, vice president; Miss Ethel Coffman, secretary; David Toms, treasurer; Mrs. Georgia Lewis, social chairman; Mrs. Dan Wellington, membership chairman.

Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh will remain as director, and many words of commendation for her activity and leadership were spoken. Those included a formal letter of appreciation from J. W. McCormac, who expressed fluently all the members of the choir have felt. F. E. Jayne, in his little talk of appreciation for the associations of Mr. Hughes and the choir, sounded a similar sympathetic note, and when Mr. Hughes responded, he took occasion to express his appreciation not only of their associations, but of Mrs. Slabaugh's work and leadership.

Supper Guests Include Well Known Artist Of California

When Mrs. E. W. Spruance entertained informally at a Sunday night supper in her home, 2215 North Ross street, she had as incentive for her hospitality, Barse Miller, noted California artist, and Mrs. Miller, and in complimenting them she at the same time, gave opportunity to a few of her Santa Ana friends to meet them in this pleasantly informal manner.

As a teacher of fine arts, Barse Miller has varied his own painting program for the summer months by conducting classes for a limited number of students while spending his summer at Newport Beach. Both Mrs. Spruance and one of her supper guests, Mrs. Catharine C. Marble, have attended these classes.

For the supper event she enhanced the charm of her home by the quantities of dainties whose rich colors glowed like jewels in which they were arranged.

In the dining room where supper was served, candles shed their soft radiance on the scene, and were in rose tones to harmonize with the decorative effect of the table.

In addition to the hostess, Mrs. Spruance and Mr. and Mrs. Miller, her honor guests, covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Young of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Burr Wellington and Mrs. Catharine Marble.

Comus Club to Forego Its August Dance

No August dancing party for Comus club members was the announcement made today by Mrs. E. B. Trago, secretary for that pleasant social club. While Comus dances are among the outstanding events of monthly interest during the autumn and winter months, summer club affairs are usually staged at one of the nearby beach pavilions.

However with so many club members roaming vacation trails of the Southland, it was thought best to cancel any plans for an August party, so the next Comus event will be the dance of Thursday night, September 15 when the group will assemble in the Orange Women's clubhouse.

V. F. W. Women Select Delegates; Observe Third Birthday

Mrs. Zilpha Pearson and Mrs. Charles Camm will represent the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary of this city as delegate and alternate, respectively, at the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to take place in Sacramento the latter part of this month. It was decided by a vote of the auxiliary members, meeting in the Pythian hall last night, the session was held with the Ernest L. Kellogg Post No. 1680, of the order. Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Camm will drive north for the convalescence.

Celebrating the third anniversary of the founding of the auxiliary, members of the auxiliary and post held a joint birthday party following the business meeting, an impressive phase of which was the lighting of candles on two handsomely decorated birthday cakes provided by Miss Minnie Besser, treasurer of the auxiliary. The cakes, laid in blue and gold, respectively, trimmed with gold and blue and decked with gold candles, were placed at either end of a long table. J. M. Pearson, senior vice commander of the post, lighting the candles on one cake, cut by Commander W. M. Kelsey, and Mrs. W. M. Kelsey, president of the auxiliary for the past two years, lighting the first candle on the second cake, and being assisted in lighting the remaining tapers by Mrs. William Besser, eldest member of the auxiliary. Mrs. Luella Randall, first president of the auxiliary, was unable to be present, in which circumstance Mrs. Al Adrain, second president, cut the first slice of this cake.

A toast by the post members to the auxiliary was offered, while good wishes accompanied the extinguishing of candles and the cutting of the cakes.

During the earlier auxiliary meeting it was reported that nearly 200 quarts of fruit had been canned for the relief kitchen, on which the auxiliary will draw for relief to the needy during the coming winter.

Post and auxiliary will hold a joint meeting with the Fullerton V. F. W. and auxiliary in Anaheim park at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, it was announced. The Santa Ana organization also will hold a steak bake and plunge party Monday at 6:30 o'clock at Huntington Beach. The beach pavilion has been reserved for dancing, later in the evening, the members taking their own orchestra.

Mock Wedding Staged By Masons Courtesy To Z. B. Wests

An unexpected program feature honoring the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. West Jr. was presented by a group of Masons at the meeting of the Hermosa chapter, Order of Eastern Star, in the Masonic temple last evening when several of the men of that order enacted a mock wedding. Mr. West is worthy patron of the chapter.

The skit had been worked out carefully in advance, appropriate dialogue having been rehearsed by several members of the wedding cast, which included George Osterman in the role of the bride; Cyrus Lurker, as the bridegroom; Jesse Miller as the flower girl; Francis Jacoby as maid of honor; Herbert Allen as ring bearer, and Eugene McBurney as the minister, the latter's costume provoking special amusement.

Mr. West and Mrs. George Osterman, in their capacities as worthy patron and matron, officiated at formal meeting ceremonies preceding the surprise program, refreshments of wafers and orange juice being enjoyed after the festivities. Several guests were present from out of town.

Members were informed that Mrs. Maude Bradley would be a guest of honor at the next chapter session on September 18.

Eleventh Anniversary Occasions Happy Celebration

Fifteen friends of Miss Genevieve Straw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Straw of 1424 West Second street, are indebted to that young lady's eleventh birthday anniversary for one of the liveliest celebrations within their experience, held this past week end at the Straw residence.

Brides to a birthday party by their young hostess, her guests made the most of a brief afternoon, racing through a variety of games and contests until play was halted by a call to refreshments, spread on a table beneath trees in the rear yard.

Young People Present Farewell Party for Miss Harrison

Members of the senior intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the United Brethren church planned a pleasant surprise last night on one of their number, Miss Mabel Harrison who is leaving soon to enter the John Brown school.

Guests gathered early in the evening at the home of Royal Gammell where Miss Harrison and one or two other members of the society were visiting. Little suspecting the surprise in store. After the exchange of greetings, the progressive game of "Travel" was introduced. Score cards were clever creations from the pencil of Miss Evelyn Dennie, and were fashioned like tiny traveling bags. Woodrow Easterly scored high in the game, and was rewarded with a huge stick of candy.

At the close of playing, refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served and then Miss Naomi Sands presented Miss Harrison with an array of packages containing gifts which she will find useful during her stay at the school. The gifts were farewell remembrances from her friends in the C. E. society.

Closing the evening program, Miss Elva Ringland led in an inspiring devotional service with "Friendship" as the theme, and closed with singing a solo, "An Evening Prayer," a favorite song of the honoree.

Members and friends of the society who attended the party were Elia and Eliza Walker, Marjorie Van Horn, Elva Ringland, Naomi Sands, Mabel Harrison, Evelyn Dennie, June Morgan, Betty Stafford, Viola Grout, Keith Noble, Royal Gammell, William Curritt, Cecil Ladd, Woodrow Easterly, Russell Baker, Clarence Jones, Cecil Smith, Joseph Hensley and Harlan Gowen.

Harold Johnsons, Wed In Yuma, Take Trip To Grand Canyon

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson are expected home within a few days from a wedding trip through the Grand Canyon which followed their marriage in Yuma, Ariz., Wednesday evening, August 10, at 6 o'clock in the Methodist parsonage of that city. Mrs. Johnson was Miss Fern Rose, daughter of E. W. Smith of 1104 French street and sister of Flake L. Smith, assistant postmaster of this city. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Agnes Johnson, 220 East Pine street.

The couple were unattended at the wedding service, immediately after which the newlyweds left on their Grand Canyon trip, from which they will return to make their home at 1104 French street. Mrs. Johnson has resided in Santa Ana for a number of years, while Mr. Johnson came to this city three years ago from Santa Barbara. He is associated with the Southern California Telephone company here.

White Shriners Enjoy Unique Form of Entertainment

At the regular meeting of Damascus White Shrine held last week in Masonic temple with Mrs. Lillian Vinson and James E. Tarpie presiding in their offices of worthy high priestess and watchman of the shepherds, there were several White Shriners from other cities to share the session and its consequent social period. These included the worthy high priestess and watchman of the shepherds of Long Beach White Shrine, Mrs. Esther Sellers and William Courtier who also were accompanied by Mr. Sellers and Mrs. Courtier.

At the conclusion of the business interval, everyone was invited to participate in a "beach party" for which adjournment was made to the main banquet room of the temple. The committee composed of Mrs. P. N. Chapin, chairman, Mrs. Bessie Lighthall, Miss Henrietta Belling, Mrs. Luella Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Meyer and P. N. Chapin, had achieved success in converting the big assembly room into a convincing beach scene, and an array of concession stands lent reality.

Measurers Chapin and Meyer, in trim white uniforms, presided at the stands where hot dogs and hamburgers were to be secured, while Miss Harriet Chapin and Miss Dorothy Spicer presided over the ice cream and soft drinks stands gay with Olympic colors. This manner of serving refreshments was voted a distinct success by everyone "on the beach."

Entertainment too was made possible and Mrs. H. G. Parks and Miss Munch played a succession of brilliant piano duets after which the games interval was enjoyed by some 75 members and guests.

YOU and your Friends

Miss Dorothy Forgy of 2107 North Broadway, and her houseguest, Miss Annette Van Geem of Erie, Pa., who has been a visitor in Santa Ana for the past week, are spending today in Agua Caliente. Miss Van Geem, whose acquaintance with Miss Forgy dates from the latter's visit to Europe in the summer of 1930, has enjoyed a fortnight's stay in California, her local sojourn having embraced trips to Riverside, Long Beach, Laguna Beach and other Southern California sites. Miss Van Geem returns east tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Steward and son Robert, 732 Eastwood street, returned yesterday from Big Bear Valley, where they have been enjoying a week's vacation. The Stewards entertained a number of friends during their mountain holiday, Miss Madeline Strain of Balboa Beach being their houseguest for the duration of their visit, while week end guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Strain of Balboa Beach, formerly of Santa Ana; Mr. Steward's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Steward of Los Angeles; and Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sandon and children, Phyllis, Maryann and Billy, of Santa Ana.

Miss Elizabeth Straw of 1424 West Second street enjoyed a visit during the latter days of the Olympic Games with a friend, Miss Gertrude Warren, of Los Angeles. The Santa Ana girl attended several entertainments while in the city, these including a symphony concert in the Hollywood Bowl and a performance at Grauman's Chinese theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Collins and children, Phyllis, Jean and Betty Ruth have returned to their home in Bakersfield following a week end stay in the W. D. Barnard home at 319 East Bishop street. Mrs. Collins is a sister of Mr. Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. Anderson's sister, Mrs. D. Walsh of Chicago, and Miss Elizabeth Anderson of this city, are home after a week's stay at Newport Beach. The previous week the same party made a trip north to San Francisco, stopping en route at Yosemite Valley and visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews (children Anderson) and their three children in Berkeley, while in the Bay vicinity. Mrs. Walsh is making a month's sojourn in California.

Miss Hazel Cave, of Pittsburgh, Kans., physical education director in Kansas State Teachers' college, who has been attending the Olympic Games, is a house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Bower, 1324 Bush street. She plans to leave Wednesday for San Francisco, where she will visit friends in the Bay district.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Witt with their sons, Norval and Harold Witt, have returned to their home at 114 West Eighteenth street, after a pleasant two weeks spent at Newport Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Clell Williamson of 1309 South Van Ness avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Farmer of 1221 South Parton street spent Sunday afternoon and evening in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Scott and sons, Dick and Don, of 4408 Valencia street, left Sunday for a week's vacation at Crestline, in the San Bernardino mountains.

Mrs. Iona S. Sharp, 825 Riverside avenue, left Sunday for a month in her old home in Nebraska where she will combine a visit

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Why is it that the term "browning" is just another word to so many housekeepers? Properly understood, this method of cooking meat provides you with meat uniformly delicious. Supposing you have planned a dinner for tonight somewhat like this:

SPLIT PEA SOUP

Salad, Rolls and Butter
Steak with Pan Gravy
Hot Beets, Creamed Cabbage
Potatoes in Cream
Green Apple Pie
Beverage

Just a good old stodgey dinner that never goes back on the male side of the house. . . and HOW we do love to feed 'em what they like! Now, let's see what we'll do with waste oven heat. I think the cabbage might be shredded and baked in milk—that way you don't have the cabbage odor all through the house. If you want it creamy and thick add some butter and flour rubber together, a few minutes before dinner is served. The potatoes in cream are cold boiled potatoes, sliced thin, dressed with thin cream salt, pepper and paprika. Baked until the cream is absorbed and the potatoes brown on top. Green apple pie . . . so baked while dinner is being prepared.

All the baking takes heat, whether you are using gas or electricity. Suppose your cooking fuel is gas; and the broiler has a baking oven above it you have that burst of flame in the bottom of the broiling oven going to waste while you are greasily and smokily frying steak on top of the stove. Do it this way:

Open the damper in the pipe that takes care of oven fumes, open the broiler door and set the rack just so the flame cannot burn the meat. Place the steak or chops on a buttered shallow pan directly under this intense heat—door open at all times. Turn, when the meat is nicely browned. Put some butter, salt and pepper over the steak before taking it from the oven. If the steak is extra thick reduce the heat after browning on both sides and cook 25 minutes for a steak 2 inches thick. The trick of good broiling is to have a draft through the oven.

TODAY'S RECIPE

MEAT PIE
2 or 3 pounds boiling beef, cooked
1 cup tomatoes
1 large chopped onion
Salt and pepper, ad lib
2 quarts broth or gravy
1/2 cups flour
1 cup beef drippings
1 teaspoon salt

Ice water to mix—not too stiff. This is one way you can use up soup meat in an appetizing way. Cut up the onion and fry it nicely in a little bacon fat, add the chopped tomato pulp and stir until hot, when it is turned into the 2 quarts of broth and the broth thickened and colored to make gravy.

We'll leave the meat for a while and make the pastry. All soup meat has a certain amount of fat that cooks out, and that is what is used in this pastry. The beef fat is used extremely good, so try and use it rather than other shortenings.

Rub the soft fat into the flour and salt and use sufficient ice water to make a thick paste which can be easily rolled. The pan must be fairly deep. Line the side—not the bottom—with the pastry, put in the cubes of meat and fill up the pan with gravy. Invert glass or tin can to hold up the pastry top. Fit it in place and bake in a medium oven about 30 minutes. When serving lift one side of the crust and pour in the remaining gravy.

This meat pie serves eight or ten and the calories per person total approximately 550, much of this total belonging to the energy makers.

Simple Puddings, the current leaflet, put together to please the boys and girls, and maybe their dads, is ready for you. And it is free all week if you'll send along a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Wednesday's recipe will be Apricot Ice, a recipe contributed by a reader.

ANN MEREDITH.

Silver Cord Leaders Entertain Wives At Beach

Officers of Silver Cord Masonic lodge took advantage of the closing days of summer in inviting their wives to Newport Beach Sunday for an afternoon and evening of entertainment at that resort.

Headquarters for the party were held at the beach cottage which Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Arnim have taken for the summer, a covered dish dinner being enjoyed indoors following a busy afternoon which officers and their wives filled with swimming and beach sports.

Motoring to the beach for the festivities were Dr. Cassius L. Paul, worshipful master of the lodge, and Mrs. Paul; Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Birkhead, Don Edwards, Charles Mattern, Olin Turner, Alex Brownridge, J. Farley Smith, Eugene Hays, A. ### Bank Staff Lays Aside Responsibilities for Merry Park Party

Engineered by a social committee headed by Mrs. Cecelia M. Best, last night's steak bake and park party of the Bank of America staff scored a complete success, and was attended by all members of the staff together with members of their families.

The merry-makers made Irvine park their rendezvous, and there resigned all responsibilities of grilling the luscious steaks to George E. Peters, who was for so many years, an executive in the bank, and to Anthony Kneip, one of the tellers of the institution. It was declared that their culinary skill was responsible for the perfection of the steaks, which was served with all manner of appetizing picnic fare brought by the different guests.

At the conclusion of the dinner and its sequel of talks and lively chat, the entire group returned to Santa Ana for a theater party.

Announcements

Middles and skirts, the uniform required of the girls attending the Julia Lathrop junior high school, will be provided for those in need of such outfits for the coming fall term if the daughters or mothers of such families will report to the Lathrop school tomorrow morning between 10:30 and 12 o'clock, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Iva M. Webber of the vocations department at that school.

The Social Order of the Beauceant will hold a desert bridge at the Masonic temple Wednesday at 1 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

The "Tynmies" sign soon was complete. Said Scouty, "Gee, it looks real neat. It makes me feel we own that house. Come on, let's go inside."

And then the painter monkey said, "That's what my sign means. Go ahead!"

Wee Duncy promptly entered. "Say! It's wonderful," he cried.

And he was right. The grass house was a real attractive place because small windows let the sun shine in to spread a bit of cheer.

Small piles of grass were on the floor and Windy said, "What are they for?" Another answered, "They are beds. We all will sleep right here."

"Ere we retire, though, let's look 'round the town and see what can be found. We've never been to Monkey Land. The sights all will be new."

"I'm sure the monk we rescued will stay with us till we've had our fill. Why, I can think of nothing that I'd really rather do."

So, out they started to explore the place they'd never seen before. The little monkey hopped along and chattered merrily.

They came upon a peddle monk who shouted, "I sell lots of junk. I even have some peanuts, as you lads can plainly see."

The peddler then heard Scouty say, "We'll take some. I will gladly pay. I'm very fond of peanuts. Give each lad a bag or two."

They promptly sat down on the ground. Peanut galore were passed around. Said Windy, "We all will go home as soon as we are through."

And so they ate and ate and ate, because the peanuts tasted great. And then they headed homeward bound, so tired they couldn't peep.

They piled up grass upon their beds so they could rest their weary heads. It wasn't very long until they all were fast asleep.

The Great Wall of America

Explorers flying over Peru discover a mighty fortification resembling the Great Wall of China, and scientists say it was erected by the long-extinct Chimu Indians of South America

A likeness of one of the prehistoric Indians who built the Great Wall of America. . . . A Chimu Indian, as portrayed in a likeness on a Chimu vase.

The sort of fighting that took place along the Great Wall. . . . This sketch and the one at the left of the page were drawn by a forgotten Chimu artist and show what warfare was like in prehistoric Peru. . . . The Chimu warriors are the ones wearing the most armor.

By EMILY C. DAVIS

THE Great Wall of China, winding like a mighty, protecting serpent along the old northern boundary of the Celestial Kingdom—Hadrian's Wall, the Great Wall of Britain, built and fortified to shut the barbarians of the north out of southern Britain in the days of the Roman Empire—

And now, added to this small, select list of great walls in the world is an American entry—the Great Wall of Peru, which has been discovered by explorers flying over the Andes.

The American wall was built with hard labor by an Indian people called the Chimu, who had an important civilization long ago on the Pacific coast of Peru, until finally they were swallowed up in a terrific struggle by the powerful empire of the Incas.

That a great wall, many miles long, should be hidden or lost or forgotten, seems incredible. A great wall would seem to be as conspicuous as the proverbial white elephant. But the great walls of China and Britain have had a way of fading out of sight for many centuries and coming to light again in modern times. And the new-found Wall of Peru is just like them.

How very, very inconspicuous a great wall can be was proved by the Chinese wall, which was unknown outside of Asia for almost 2000 years. And it is 1500 miles long—that is half the width of the United States. As late as 50 years ago, articles were actually written arguing that the Chinese wall was a myth.

In England, archaeologists are still discovering Hadrian's Wall, which runs clear across the island, from east to west, for 73 miles. Only last year a brand new fort along the wall was unearthed, with much excitement in England.

AS for the Great Wall of Peru, it has just gained the world's attention for the first time. It was sighted from the air unexpectedly as the recent Shippee-Johnson Peruvian Expedition flew over the foothills of the Andes.

Never having heard of any barricade of such size in Peru, the surprised explorers, Robert Shippee and George R. Johnson and their party, studied their air photographs and puzzled over them and finally decided to make another flight, to trace the length of this mysterious barricade.

This time the flying explorers started from a point near the Pacific coast where ruins of a village lie buried in sand. There the great wall springs up.

The whole Pacific coast of Peru is a desert strip of sand about 50 miles wide, cut across by a number of rivers which make the land habitable. East of that desert strip, the ranges of the Andes begin.

THE great wall crosses this strip and rises into the foothills. It was apparently built to follow the Santa River from sea to mountain. In many places the barricade wanders more than a mile from the river. Occasionally it comes close, even crossing the river's path.

Like the Chinese wall and the Wall of Hadrian, the Great Wall of Peru was strengthened by a series of forts. The discoverers sighted 14 of these forts. They stood on both sides of the wall and at a short distance from it.

Some of the forts are circular, some are rectangular. Most of them were cleverly set in the tops of small hills, where they would be quite invisible from the valley floor.

As the flyers followed the wall up into the Andes, at an elevation of 10,000 feet in the mountains they lost the trail. Weather conditions were against them. The light was failing.

But they had succeeded in following the wall for more than 40 miles. They had seen enough to convince them that this construction project of ancient America ranks with remarkable feats of the past.

Viewed from an airplane over the Andes, the Great Wall of Peru is a seam, a long, fine scar on the face of the mountains. After the flyers had surveyed it from the air, they set out in an automobile and on foot to examine the wall at close range.

They found a tall, crumbling rampart of mud-cemented boulders. Where it crosses gullies it rises as high as 20 or 30 feet. The average height appears to have been 12 to 15 feet. At the base it was about 12 to 15 feet thick, and toward the top it tapered.

IT is interesting to compare this wall with the other two, previously mentioned.

The Great Wall of China, built about 200 B. C., is 1500 miles long, has 25,000 towers for forts, rises from 15 to 30 feet high and is 25 feet thick at its base.

Hadrian's Wall in England was built around 150 A. D., is 73 miles long, has 14 large forts and 80 small ones, stands nearly 20 feet high and is eight feet thick.

The Great Wall of America is known to be 40 miles long and may be longer, may have been built as early as 300 A. D., has an average height equal to that of the Chinese wall, is strengthened by 14 forts and is from 12 to 15 feet thick.

Now that the great wall has been revealed by aerial photography, there is real surprise that so big a monument was never mentioned in early historic writings about Peru. The Spanish conquerors, who were so curious about all the wonders of the Incan empire in Peru, seem to have heard nothing about a great wall. At least, they never wrote of it.

The Spaniards exclaimed over the long, smooth highways built by the Incas for their armies to march over. They marveled to see Incan temples built of stone and shining in gold and jeweled ornaments. They took the keenest interest in the intricate communist system of the Incan government. And chroniclers who accompanied Pizarro busily wrote down impressions about these things.

WAS the great wall already a ruin, forgotten, when the Spaniards conquered the Incas in the 16th century? That might account for silence of history on the subject.

A number of archaeologists have been asked their opinions on the great wall by the American Geographical Society, and there is virtual agreement on one point. That is that the builders of the Great Wall of Peru were the Chimu Indians. They were living in the region when the great wall must have been built, for they occupied the coast from very early centuries of the Christian era.

There is a famous Chimu vase painting which shows a whole row of hand-to-hand combats between Chimu warriors and some opponents. Such a scene gives a pretty good idea of what Indian fighting must have been like along the Great Wall of Peru in the days when it was a fortification in active use.

In the series of duels painted on this vase, the best dressed contestant, the Chimu warrior, is winning every time. And that is no wonder. For the winners are protected about the head by pointed helmets of wood and cotton with chin straps and ear plates and a flap down the back of the neck.

These warriors wear armor jackets, probably made of slats of wood laced together. And they are loaded down with shields, battle axes, wicked-looking maces, and other accessories for close combat. War paint on faces and legs completes the fighting outfit.

Some of the enemy in this fight have helmets to wear. But most of them have only tasseled caps to save their heads from bludgeon blows, and have little or no body protection.

When the Chimu were a young and rising tribe in north coast Peru, they were engaged in fighting civil wars among their own neighbors. Later, the Chimu had to defend themselves against Indian tribes from the highland of Peru. And then, somewhere between 1000 A. D. and 1300 A. D., the Chimu had to fight the conquering Incas, who finally added Chimuland to their kingdom.

Experts on Peruvian archaeology differ in their views as to which age of Chimu fighting brought the great wall into existence. Dr. R. L. Olson of the University of California suggests that the great wall may have been a defense structure built by the early Chimu, as they extended their territory to north and south.

HEALTHY CAMP DRIVE
HEADS SELECTED

ANAHEIM, Aug. 16.—In a campaign just begun in the county to raise $12,000 for the Children's Health camp above Irvine park, Victor Lohy has been named district chairman for Anaheim and is heading a formation of 39 volunteer workers. The selection was made by the board of directors who have expressed confidence in Lohy's ability.

With the camp holding a capacity of 46 beds and only 24 filled at the present time, owing to the lack of funds, it is the hope of those interested in the work that sufficient funds can be raised to fill all of the beds. This will help in large measure to take care of the long waiting list of undernourished children.

STERNAGEL-KNOX
WEDDING SATURDAY

ANAHEIM, Aug. 16.—Miss Leona Elizabeth Sternagel, musically talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Sternagel of the Colonial apartments became the bride of James Knox Jr., of Long Beach Saturday afternoon in a ceremony held in the Whittier Methodist church where the Rev. Ray C. Harker, now of Anaheim, officiated. Only relatives and intimate friends were bidden to the ceremony that was followed by a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Skinner of Maywood.

Wearing a formal afternoon gown of pale blue chiffon the bride carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley. Assisting her as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Frieda Sternagel, who wore a formal afternoon frock of pale green chiffon and carried a bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley and pink blossoms. Raymond Dawkins of Bell assisted the bridegroom as best man.

At the wedding dinner Mrs. Sternagel, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Skinner, received the guests. Covers were laid at the beautifully appointed table for the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Sternagel, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and son, Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cramer, Miss Helen Skinner, Miss Johanna Biecke and Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox Jr. left yesterday morning for the east where they will visit the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Knox Jr., of Hazard, Kentucky, relatives of the bride and her former home in Verona where she attended school.

Twitcheell, "Dorothy Basemann" of Fullerton and Miss Freda Lumsden of Anaheim.

Featured artists include D. C. Clanton, director of the Santa Ana municipal band and cornet player of note, and Art Cannon, feature organist, the two performers to appear under the auspices of the Santa Ana Breakfast club.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 16.—Plans for a benefit show to be staged here tonight at the Anaheim Fox theater, under the management and through the co-operation of Harry Arthur, by the Workers' League of the city, Local and county talent will take a prominent part in the success of the show that will begin at eight o'clock. Proceeds of the theater will be donated to the unemployed through the efforts of the League.

Both film and stage numbers are being presented tonight. Among the talented contributors are members of the Orange County School of Fine Arts, the Ramona Mulligan music studio, Margaret J. Buttner music studio and the Olive Lee Shoemaker music studio. Also appearing on the same program are Betty Jean Koster, Master Betty, Floyd Stewart, "Macie Mirella" Mirella, Harry H. Twitcheell, "Dorothy Basemann" of Fullerton and Miss Freda Lumsden of Anaheim.

LEGION DRUM CORPS
IN STATE CONTEST

ANAHEIM, Aug. 16.—Appearing in its second year of competition the Anaheim drum and bugle corps of the American Legion left Saturday afternoon for Oakland at which place the 36 members will compete for awards at the state convention. Last year the corps finished fourth and the drum and bugle corps rates much higher now. It was one of the six corps chosen to appear in the massed band at the Olympic games and has also played for the world-wide broadcasting that was put on in honor of the Tenth Olympiad.

Members of the drum and bugle corps attending are: Drum major, Charles Easton; Harry D. Akerman, Joe G. Elliott, Claire Leibhart, Henry Barker, Frank O'Connell, Harry Cook, Sam Snodgrass, John Horgan, Angelo Caffo, Archie Cooke, Charles Hammons, Carl Johnson, Al Dutil, Emil M. Woods, Eugene Hedrick, J. D. Wilcox, J. E. Parker, Frank DeSole, A. E. Corcoran, W. S. Swain and Charles Steninger.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 16.—Two weeks from last evening the 20-30 club will hold a closed meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall and will hear a report of the national convention that is being held August 19, 20, 21 and 22 at Sacramento. The delegates will include the president, Joe Scholz, and Wallace Walton, Waldo Wilburn and Arch Henry. The regular dinner meeting will be held last evening at the Knights of Pythias hall.

The program was in charge of Joe Chambers who introduced the speaker for the evening, Dr. Max Henderson who talked on "The Privileges of Belonging to a Service Club" in which he stressed the fellowship bonds and the good contacts made by each member. J. Gledhill introduced the Arkansas Hill Billies who presented a program of music, songs and novelty numbers.

There is speed and class to burn among this group. Bell's 412 batting average and well known defensive prowess makes him the standard of the group, which may place him at a disadvantage for if he doesn't live up to advance notices he can be the last of the series, just as Ole Manasse was in '29.

The series should be a tremendous drawing card because, for the first time in years, Santa Ana can actually handle the crowds now. The Bowl accommodates 5000. There isn't the extreme bitterness in this series that there was last year when George Pace was handling the Valencia but the old rivalry is prevalent, and the box offices will do a healthy business both here and at Anaheim when the second, fourth and sixth games of the series will be held.

Complimenting the Olympiad committee on the excellent management of the games the speaker declared that every Californian should be proud of the way the games were conducted.

Having formerly expressed his opinion that the Olympic games would not accomplish much in international relations Hefron was frank in admitting that the games had done, with a few exceptions, more to foster goodwill than almost any other channel.

The speaker was introduced by Art Shipkey, program chairman.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 16.—Rotarian members listened with interest yesterday to the address given by James Hefron, sports writer, on interesting sidelights that he gained while attending the Tenth Olympiad, following the noon luncheon held in the Elk's clubhouse.

SANTA ANA, ANAHEIM
IN SERIES OPENER

men on base, a trait that will not serve him well against the dave-devils Santa Anas. Bob Rose, Anaheim's No. 2 man, hardly measures up to the other three runners of the series—Erlington and Santa Ana's Joe Cornelius and Ira DeBusk—although Rose is the coolest cucumber of the lot and may prove the surprise of the series.

Cornelius in Form Now

Cornelius, ineffective most of the second half, has suddenly returned to the best form of the season. He seems at razor's edge for the playoff games DeBusk, a youngster with lots of self-confidence, is the question mark of the quartet. He may be unbeatable; he may not win a game. If he wins tonight he might not lose a game.

Santa Ana is conceded a slight margin back of the plate. The Stars' "Emmy" Wilcox is generally recognized as the smartest reliever in the league. He is in Ed Daley and Clarence Hapes the club has two other great catchers in reserve. The fiery Francis Lemon must go the distance for Anaheim. He is a high class man at his work, too, and suffers but little in comparison with the steady Wilcox.

Santa Ana's infield—Ed Daley, 1b; George Preble, 2b; Tom Denney, 3b; and "Memphy" Hill, ss, is rated on even terms with Anaheim's infield—Mal Higgins, 1b; Jim McNabb, 2b; Al Kohler, 3b, and Phil Schrott, ss. Santa Ana's foursome has more speed. Anaheim's has a bit more hitting power, with Kohler considered the best batsman in the series.

THE ACHIEVEMENT OF A ONE-LEGGED MAN

R. E. Welch, one-legged station agent of the Boston and Maine Railroad at Northumberland, N. H., recently climbed Mt. Washington in four hours and five minutes. This is a remarkable feat for a man thus handicapped. It might well be noted in the news dispatches, for most of us with two good legs, supplemented with a good heart and good lungs, could hardly do as well. If medals are to be given for noteworthy achievements, Mr. Welch is entitled to one more than many who have received them.

The achievements of the handicapped are sometimes marvelous. We hear blind people speak of seeing the movies, and enjoying them. Helen Keller, recently honored with a degree by the University of Glasgow, has not only become a great scholar, but she has the ability to instruct her fellow human beings who possess all their faculties. It is little short of miraculous that one who has no sense but that of touch should have achieved what Helen Keller has achieved.

We sometimes wonder how necessary any of our senses really are in view of such accomplishments. Some of the world's greatest achievements have been made by the handicapped. The poet Pope was so crippled and so weak physically that he had to be sewed up in buckram. Yet what a wonderful philosophy of life is expressed in his poetry! The historian Parkman, much less read by this generation than earlier ones, was almost blind. Yet he traveled through the wilderness and read scores of books and writings in other languages to gather the material for his romantic studies. Wilkie Collins is said to have written some of his great novels amid paroxysms of pain. All are acquainted with handicapped men and women who put us to shame by their achievements.

What an inspiration these may be to many of sound body and mind who dawdle through life without accomplishing anything at all worth while.

Mussolini says he is a firm advocate of economy in government. Just to prove his point, cabinet dinners in Italy now consist of a table set for one.

THE RISE IN THE STOCK MARKET

Many questions have been raised in trying to explain the rather phenomenal rise of stocks on the exchange in the past few weeks. There is nothing in the business situation that warrants this sudden upturn of stocks. The business index was stationary last week, and dropped a fraction this week. The unfilled tonnage of the steel corporation was somewhat smaller. It is certain that unless business picks up, the rise cannot continue indefinitely.

There are those who assert that the market is being rigged for political purposes. We are not familiar enough with such things to confirm that rumor. But we do know that stocks on the whole have been on the bargain counter for a number of months. When the market value of stocks is so low that many companies could have bought their complete stock issues out of their surplus, it is certain that such stocks are selling far below their real value. Nothing but forced selling and lack of buying ability can account for such prices as have prevailed for high grade stocks. The jump in brokers' loans the past week reveals a loosening of credit which is encouraging. As we have pointed out before, the trouble with the whole economic situation has been a lack of credit. Perhaps we are beginning to get the results of the great governmental credits which are being pumped into business through the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

What we must look for next is a rise in the business index and in commodity prices. If such a rise follows the rise in stocks, we shall undoubtedly be on the high road to recovery. So great an authority as Prof. Tausig of Harvard recently stated that no one knows what causes the turn in the cycle; but it has always come. Perhaps this is the time. We surely hope so.

MRS. CARAWAY, SENATOR, TO CONTINUE

Mrs. Caraway, United States Senator from Arkansas, has been nominated by an overwhelming majority to succeed herself. On the death of her husband, she was appointed by the Governor to fill out his term. Then, as a matter of courtesy, the people confirmed the action of the Governor. But evidently the wisecracks of the party did not intend that she should continue, and four candidates ran against her in the primaries. In this trial race she polled more votes than all the candidates opposed to her put together. Her election in November is now a foregone conclusion.

This is an event of more than ordinary significance. The South has been slow in recognizing the rights of women in other spheres than the domestic. The original appointment of Mrs. Caraway was supposed to be nothing more than a compliment to her deceased husband. The primary poll now gives the high office to Mrs. Caraway in her own right. Mrs. Felton of Georgia had a seat in the Senate for a day. It was purely a sentimental favor granted to a lady of 81. Mrs. Caraway takes her place for a full term, and is really the first woman to occupy the Senate in her own right by the suffrage of the people. Now that a break has been made into the Senate by a woman, it will cease to be a novelty; and we look in the near future to many women serving in that body. Who knows but when the women are awakened to their political rights, in every state there will be a demand that one of the two Senators shall be a woman?

Another fact is to be noted. Huey Long, the Senator from Louisiana, who is being looked upon as the stormy petrel of the Senate, campaigned for Mrs. Caraway. He is looked upon as somewhat of a radical. This points to a progressive stand on the part of Mrs. Caraway. The press of the North has been uniformly critical of Senator Long. Noting the Senator's power in his own state of Louisiana, and now his influence in the neighboring state of Arkansas, we wonder how much of this criticism of him is part of a program of propaganda organized by those who have selfish interests to serve. We do not know; but we are a bit suspicious.

An eastern cutlery firm intends to bring out a pocket knife with a brief history of George Washington inscribed on the handle. Enabling our school-boys to sharpen their wits and pencils at the same time.

THIS IS A NEW ONE

We have heard of all sorts of Memorial Sundays, from Mothers' Sunday down to Memorial Sunday for dumb animals. But here is a new one. There is an organization in a Massachusetts town which has started the observance of Ancestors' Sunday. We warn those who are about to start on such a program of some of the pitfalls lying before them. It was Samuel Johnson who once said that every genealogist is interested in his ancestry until he falls upon an ancestor who was hung or died a drunkard in a poorhouse, and then his search ceases to have interest. James Russell Lowell said at one time that he was much more interested in his descendants than he was in his ancestors. He was not responsible for his ancestors, and he did not know anyway what he could do about them if he were responsible.

Then, too, if we go back far enough we shall strike a common family tree. Then what happens? Some wag has said that if we go back far enough in our family history we may get hit with a coconut thrown at us by one of our aboriginal ancestors. Mark Twain was once conducted to the grave of Adam. When the guide feelingly referred to the first human being, the father of the race, Mark shed a few tears of sorrow. One of the other members of the party asked him why he was crying. "Why," he said, "my ancestor Adam is buried here." "That isn't Adam's grave," said his fellow tourist. "Well," said Mark, "if it isn't Adam's grave, whose grave is it?" Mark was not going to be denied his little emotional luxury.

It is all right to be proud of good ancestors, and we all should be. But this multiplication of memorials is apt to develop into the ridiculous. We have altogether too much worship of dead ancestors already. Much of it, as we know, has developed an unjustifiable pride, or worse, a petty snobbishness.

Another advantage of having one's education in the College of Hard Knocks is that you don't get a letter every so often asking if you will contribute your share to building a new ping-pong for Dear Old Whoosis.

Our Inventors

Oakland Tribune

Americans go on inventing in the manner which has given the nation the reputation for being one of ingenuity. Last year our citizens were given patents on 47,799 articles or designs which is one for each 2396 persons.

Figuring out the geographical centers of inventiveness, the Patent Office finds that Connecticut has led the States for the past two years with one patent to every 1454 persons. New Jersey is second; Illinois, third; New York, fourth, and California takes fifth place with her citizens receiving one patent for every 1571 persons. The Golden State, standing fifth in ingenuity, ranks way ahead of the national average.

Commissioner Thomas E. Robertson of the Patent Office points out that when totals of patents and designs are considered, these figures line the States up in a very different order. On this basis citizens of New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and California received 25,586 patents and designs, or more than half of the total number granted. New York led with 8355, Illinois was second with 5100, Pennsylvania third with 4357, Ohio fourth with 4100 and California fifth with 3614. The majority of the patents are, naturally, granted to residents in the industrial centers.

GIVING US WHAT WE WANT

Caligula, beyond dispute, Had faults, as who of us have not? For justice he gave not a hoot; His heart was cold, his temper hot. He wished his subjects had one head That he could lop off with a blow, And when he died, nobody said, "Too bad the old bird had to go; Although nobody could be cooler We'll not forget that noble ruler."

King John had few endearing traits; He lacked both kindness and tact. If what the Bard of Avon states Is quite within the bounds of fact. With stern toadyism disregard Of any interests save his own, He schemed to quote another bard—"To wade through slaughter to a throne." No time was given to "alas-ing" At this hard-hearted monarch's passing.

But I discovered, when in school, That men whose trade is writing books Say most about the wicked rule Of scoundrelly, base-hearted crooks. While kings of the more kindly sort— Wise, forward looking, kindly sages— Are always cut off pretty short. Sometimes with half a dozen pages. Which after all is scarce a mystery. For crime makes up the bulk of history.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

Forecast of political skies: Wet with accompanying squalls. Short history of a racketeer: Shoot; Big Shot; shot. At that, near beer is still nearer than the other kind. Well, the kind of punishment those violent bonus-seekers deserve is Washington in August. Hollywood does its best to combat birth control. It has a baby to each 5000 feet of film.

THE BEST WAY TO PRESERVE YOUR FAITH IN HUMANITY IS TO SKIP THE STORY WHEN YOU SEE THE WORD "INVESTIGATION."

There's no doubt about California's climate. The new-born infant shown in a movie always seems to be a 20-pounder. Here's the solution: A law that no man receiving money from the Government is privileged to vote. Out here a Tammany man is expected to end the domination of the East, that's where the West begins.

AMERICANISM: Extending millions of credit to foreigners so they can buy our surplus; giving charity to good Americans who can't buy because they have no credit.

The first question to decide is whether veterans in a huddle remain mere citizens or acquire special rights. The first essential of a great leader is followers. If a Congressman who voted to increase your postage can send you a franked letter without making you see red, he's a statesman.

SAVING THE COUNTRY DOESN'T DEPEND ON THE N. C. C., THE R. F. C. AND THE R. C. C. SO MUCH AS THE P. D. Q.

The ice man's trade journal says: "The ice man should leave no sign that he has been in the house." But what would comic magazines do?

And doubtless many a drug store has lost fussy customers by increasing the price of its postage stamps. Now science tells us that grasshoppers turn to devouring locusts when they gang up. Evidently something like a militant minority.

Nuisance taxes may prove a blessing. With bullets flying everywhere, one needs a lot of practice in dodging. CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "I PREFER PATIENTS," SAID THE DOCTOR, "WHO TAKE INTEREST ENOUGH TO ASK WHAT I AM GIVING THEM."

OUR FOREIGN TRADE PICTURE

I want today to sketch the broad outlines of our foreign trade picture.

I do this in response to a request from a reader of this column who asks what has really happened to our foreign trade and what significance the happening has.

Here are the figures since the beginning of the century:

In 1900 we sold abroad $1,400,000,000.

In 1915 we sold abroad $2,800,000,000.

In 1916 we sold abroad $5,500,000,000.

In 1920 we sold abroad $8,200,000,000.

In 1922 we sold abroad $8,800,000,000.

In 1925 we sold abroad $5,000,000,000.

In 1929 we sold abroad $5,200,000,000.

In 1930 we sold abroad $3,800,000,000.

In 1931 we sold abroad $2,400,000,000.

The best estimate I have at hand places our 1932 exports at the probable total of $1,700,000,000.

When we stop to think that our 1932 exports will be back within $200,000,000 of our total exports in 1900, the fact seems staggering.

If we do not burrow under and break down these totals the statistics are not as bad as they seem.

For with all the rise and fall of our export curve, the proportion of our total production that has been sold abroad has remained about the same from 1900 to 1932.

That is to say, from 1900 to our peak year of 1929, each year we exported just about ten per cent of our total production.

This means that our total production has risen and fallen just about the same as our total exports have risen and fallen.

But unless we do burrow under and break down these totals of exports we do not get the true picture of what the decline in exports means.

The old butcher, asked what was in his sausage, said, "Rabbit and horse."

"In what proportion?" he was asked.

"Fifty fifty," he said, "one horse to one rabbit."

It is not true that our exports have only a ten per cent meaning to our domestic prosperity, because so many parts of our economic enterprise have leaned much more heavily upon foreign trade for their market, and so tomorrow I shall indicate some of the parts of our economic life that have had a far heavier stake in foreign trade.

LATE HOURS

One of the sources of friction between high school children and their elders is the time set for homecoming.

"Well, I suppose you have to go. I wish these dances were over. They put all sorts of notions into your heads."

"I mean this, you have to be in this house before twelve o'clock."

"O, mother, you know I can't be in before twelve."

"All right. Stay home then. I'm not going to have you running about the country nights to all hours. You come in at a respectable hour or you don't go out."

"Now mother, listen. We don't begin to dance before half past nine at the earliest. Usually it's ten. We only have a few dances before twelve. Then we have to have something to eat. We can't get in before two or three."

"Then you can stay home. I tell you. If you think that I'm going to let you stay out all night with a boy I don't know anything more about than his name and address, you're mistaken. It isn't right, it isn't safe, it isn't decent. That's my last word."

Unfortunately it is only the beginning of many words. These days the dances are held in roadhouses miles from home. All the group goes. If one girl refuses to go she is left out without a quarrel. She's a dud and it's just too bad. This is hard on the girl. She suffers. What can we do about it?

It is not the lateness of the hours that troubles us so much. It is the opportunities for petting, phandering, lovmaking, that these long distance, long timed dances offer inexperienced and newly awakened children. The things we dread can happen early in the evening and close to home, of course, but the atmosphere of the dance is more likely to stimulate them into being than the atmosphere of the front porch.

The best safeguard we can throw around adolescent children is knowledge and understanding. If in the early years, when we had their attention, we taught them the meaning of their impulses and their powers we can now release them with a better heart. Certainly trying to hold them close at home is not going to help us much.

Neighborhood opinions is a great force. If the parents of the group agree that all parties, dances, excursions and expeditions into the realms of pleasure are to be organized under careful and yet understanding supervision, things will be much easier all around. One child cannot say, "The others all do it. Their mothers let them. You are the only old fashioned one and you're making me ridiculous."

Some freedom the adolescent boys and girls must have. Some wise and understanding supervision they must have in consequence. There must be a little yielding of desires on both sides and support from the neighborhood group. We need an enlightened community opinion to sustain these children in their growth and at the same time preserve them from harm.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

CANADIANS ATTACK

On Aug. 16, 1918, French and Canadian troops attacked German positions on an eight-mile front from a point west of Fransart to Lancourt. Their net advance for the day averaged more than two miles and more than 2000 prisoners were taken.

In the Lys salient, British forces advanced from one to two miles on a nine-mile front, meeting little opposition. Allied experts learned that Ludendorff had decided to retire to the Hindenburg line, some 20 miles to the rear.

General Pershing notified the state department that a complete squadron of 18 American-built and manned planes had completed their first trip over the German lines.

Can I have the next stance? Some times simply means that a photographer wants to take a golf pro's picture!
